

Series Ends as Reds Win, 2-1

Derringer Is Victor Over Buck Newsom

Crosley Field, Cincinnati—(P)—Cincinnati's rampant Redlegs won the world series today, four games to three by beating the Detroit Tigers in the seventh contest, 2 to 1. Before a crowd of about 25,000 thrill-crazed fans. The Reds rallied for the winning runs in the seventh inning when Buck Newsom, pitching for the Tigers after one day's rest, weakened to give two doubles and a fly.

It was Cincinnati's first world series championship since 1919, when the Reds beat the Chicago White Sox. Paul Derringer, batted out of the box in the opening game, was the winning pitcher today. Each hurler allowed seven hits.

First Inning
Tigers—Bartel lined the first pitch directly at Myers. With the count two strikes and one ball, McCormick lifted a high fly to M. McCormick in deep center. After looking at one ball, Gehring lifted a fly in short left-center that looked like an almost certain hit, but Rippe came rushing in to make a great catch. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Second Inning
Tigers—After taking one strike, Greenberg sent a sharp grounder which Myers knocked down but unable to throw in time to catch Greenberg. It was scored a single. York also looked at one strike, then topped the ball toward third base. Werber rushing in for a glove-hand pickup and throwing to first just in time to nip the runner in a spectacular play. Campbell grounded to Derringer, who wheeled and saw Greenberg straining for this and ran toward him setting up a trap in which Greenberg was run down. Derringer to Myers to Werber to Joost, Campbell going to second. Higgins was thrown out, Joost to F. McCormick. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Third Inning
Tigers—Sullivan sent a grounder along the first-base line and beat F. McCormick's throw to Derringer for a single. Newsom, after looking at one strike, laid down a sacrifice.

Safety Engineers Urge Higher Speed Limits for Motorists

Chicago—(P)—Higher speed limits for motorists were recommended today by a group of safety experts. Unreasonably low speed limits paradoxically cause much of the speeding on city streets, the National Safety Congress was told by a National Safety Council research committee.

The committee cited Kansas City's experience in point. There the speed limit on an arterial street outside of the congested district was raised from 25 miles an hour to 45. The average motorist immediately slowed down from 38 miles an hour to 34. Maximum speed dropped from 72 to 45.

Careful handling of livestock headed for the packing houses would pay big dividends to farmers, the meat packing section of the safety congress was told by H. R. Smith, general manager, national live stock loss prevention board.

During 1935, he said, the loss on animals dead and crippled on arrival at market was approximately $3,000,000 and the loss from bruising was approximately $9,000,000.

Labor Policies Not Big Factor In Contracts

Spokesmen for Army And Navy Testify Before Committee

Washington—(P)—War and navy department spokesmen declared today that labor policies of defense contractors were not considered to be determining factors in the awarding of defense contracts.

Secretary of the Navy Knox and Robert P. Patterson, assistant secretary of war, so testified before the house committee investigating the labor board.

They and other officials had been summoned by the committee to discuss the significance of a recent informal opinion by Attorney General Jackson which some house members had interpreted to mean that firms found by the labor board to be guilty of Wagner act violations would be denied defense contracts.

In opening the hearing, Chairman Smith (D-Va.) said Jackson's opinion had aroused fears that the defense program might be delayed if contracts had to be withheld from some firms.

Decisions Binding
Jackson's opinion was given last week to Sidney Hillman, labor member of the defense commission. It held that decisions by one federal executive agency were binding on other such agencies.

The commission already had announced that defense contractors should observe labor laws, but the question had arisen whether in enforcing this policy as applied to the Wagner act decisions by the labor board should be used as the basis or whether court decisions, possibly overruling the board, should be awaited.

Patterson said "we have not made disputes between contractors and the labor board a determining factor in the award of contracts. We are interested first in speed of deliveries."

He added that the only time such disputes might constitute a determining factor would be when they threatened to interfere with deliveries.

Knox testified that Patterson's "very fine statement" reflected the attitude of the navy department as well as the army's.

Defense Housing Fund Is Approved

Washington—(P)—The house voted $150,000,000 today to build an estimated 40,000 housing units for national defense workers and men in the army and navy.

A few minutes before, the chamber had approved finally and sent to the White House legislation authorizing the housing program. The appropriations bill, approved on a voice vote, goes to the senate. It provides $75,000,000 cash and authorizes the federal works agency to enter into contracts calling for further expenditure of an additional $75,000,000.

British Report Italian Supply Line Is Severed

London—(P)—A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Aden said today one of the most vital Italian supply lines in East Africa had been cut in the bombing during the last few days of Aisha, airport station on the Jibuti-Addis Ababa railway.

U. S. Fliers Make Up British Squadron

London—(P)—The first British fighter squadron composed entirely of American pilots will shortly take its place in the front line of Britain's defenders, Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair announced today.

The unit, which will be known as the Eagle squadron, will be commanded in action by Squadron Leader William Erwin Gibson Taylor of New York.

Colonel Charles Sweeney, who ranked as a group captain in the Royal Air Force Volunteer reserve, will be honorary commanding officer.

Veteran of the Civil War and Chicago Fire 110 Years Old Today

Valparaiso, Ind.—(P)—John J. McCafferty of Valparaiso, a veteran of the Civil war and the 1871 Chicago fire, accepted congratulations today and with reason.

The retired blacksmith celebrated what he said was his hundredth birthday yesterday. He didn't quit work till six years ago—and then only because he was hurt by a bursting emery wheel.

4 Sentenced in Bizarre Plot

Admit Transporting Shakespeare Folio Across State Line

Rochester, N. Y.—(P)—Four men who pleaded guilty transporting a rare $50,000 Shakespeare folio, stolen from the Williams college library, across the state lines received sentences today.

Federal Judge Harold P. Burke sentenced William Kwiatkowski, 22, Buffalo, a convicted plagiarist, termed by federal attorneys as the ringleader in the bizarre theft, to two years in a federal prison.

Edward Kwiatkowski, 20, William's brother, was given a two-year suspended sentence and placed on probation for two years.

Joseph Biernot, 42, the Kwiatkowski's brother-in-law, was sentenced to 18 months.

Donald Lynch, 36-year-old Hudson Falls, N. Y., shoe clerk who confessed to gain access to the library and leave a mummy package for the Shakespeare folio, was given a three-month term.

The folio, one of the first printed editions of Shakespeare's works, was stolen Feb. 8. It was placed on an assistant United States attorney's desk Aug. 27 in Buffalo.

Youth Takes Stand in Slaying of Stepthaer

Milwaukee—(P)—Frank Klancnik, 21, charged with the first degree murder of his stepfather, John Schartz, 39, during a quarrel last April 10, took the stand in municipal court today.

His statement to police immediately after the shooting was read in to the record yesterday.

Worst Air Raid For Nazi Capital

High Command Tells Of Night-Long Attacks On Southern England

Berlin—(P)—Night-long German bombing raids on southern England were reported today by the high command, which admitted that Berlin bombers had inflicted casualties and military damage on Berlin in a fierce exchange of air blows.

Besides subjecting this capital to the worst raid it has yet suffered, British fliers struck also at Hamburg, Germany's chief port, and Amsterdam, chief city of the Nazi-occupied Netherlands.

At least 25 persons were killed and approximately 60 injured, German sources declared, and the toll may be considerably higher. More than half the dead, they said, were women and children.

In "rolling" attacks throughout the night, the high command reported medium and heavy German bombs fell on traffic points, industrial centers and other targets in the London region.

Many Fires Started
"Numerous fires were started in the region of the city," it said. "Especially great fires were observed during night raids on Manchester, Liverpool and Edinburgh. Mining of British ports continued."

In southern England, the communique declared, armament plants and "military important objectives" were "effectively bombed."

Yesterday's fighting, swelling again to a thunderous crescendo after

Scalise Given Term in Prison

Former Union Leader Must Serve 10 to 20 Years in Sing Sing

New York—(P)—George Scalise, swarthy former union boss of 70,000 scrubwomen and building workers, must serve 10 to 20 years in Sing Sing in his conviction of stealing funds of the A. F. of L.'s Building Service Employees International union.

With good behavior he may be eligible for parole in 1944 and freed in 1948.

General sessions Judge Jacob Gould Schurman refused to hold that the former labor leader's conviction in 1913 on a Mann act charge made him a second offender. Such a holding would have doubled the sentence.

The court sentenced Scalise to five to ten years for first degree grand larceny, two to four years on a third-degree forgery count, and one to two years each on three other forgery counts, adding "the terms are to be served consecutively, and not concurrently."

Package Under Trestle Delays FDR's Train

Washington—(P)—President Roosevelt's special train, rolled into Union station today after a 40-minute delay attributed by Secretary Stephen Early to the discovery of a package—which turned out to be empty—under a trestle on the line of travel.

Miss Scott and Pushee were brought to a hospital here.

Gov. Heil Proclaims 'Knute Rockne' Week

Madison—(P)—Governor Heil issued a proclamation today declaring this week as "Knute Rockne" week and urging Wisconsin citizens to pay tribute to the former Notre Dame football coach.

The proclamation referred to Rockne as a "physically strong American man a competitively alert citizen and brave American."

Pilot and Passengers Are Killed in Crash

Santa Ana, Costa Rica—(P)—Enrique Maleck, Panamanian pilot of a Central American Airlines plane, and all of his passengers were killed today when the plane crashed into a mountainside near here. The number on board was not disclosed immediately.

Crowds Dash for Shelter as Huge Bombs Are Dropped on Traffic-Congested Areas

Worst Air Raid For Nazi Capital

London—(P)—Waves of Nazi planes underscored German statements that London would be wiped out by smashing at the city today in four swift raids which caught the traffic-thronged capital during morning rush hours and took uncounted toll of dead and injured.

Buildings along central city streets were wrecked by huge explosives which screamed down as crowds dashed for shelter.

While the Luftwaffe swept in for the daylight blows, England's long-range southeast coast guns shelled the French coast near Boulogne where mysterious, smoke-screened Nazi movements were detected overnight.

German guns quickly took up the cross-channel firing and explosions shook both sides of the strait of Dover. German shells smashed into Dover at intervals of three minutes. Columns of smoke and debris spouted into the air on the French side, marking British hits.

Witnesses told of pedestrians shouting and dashing for cover in buildings along mid-London streets as they heard the scream of falling explosives.

Store Fronts Smashed
Some store fronts crumpled into masses of rubble, burying those who took shelter there.

All the passengers of a wrecked bus were believed killed. Stretcher-bearers, ambulances and trucks pressed into service to carry the injured took the place of the normal early-morning traffic. Some of the wounded received treatment beside piles of debris in the streets, and crews dug into ruins for the bodies of other victims.

Londoners read that German troops had entered Rumania, and that British experts possibly would consider whether counter moves would be feasible against the axis strength in the hitherto untouched theater of the war 1,500 miles away in southeastern Europe.

The sudden bustle of activity across the glassy-smooth channel appeared as something new to observers along England's heavily-manned southeast coast.

Travelers Active
First a German plane laid a smoke screen along the continental shore. Despite the smoke, travelers and drifters—light boats often mentioned as ferries for invasion troops—were seen early today putting out from near Boulogne, moving cautiously southwest close to shore.

All the while, raiding bombers which came over at 10-minute intervals kept up their night-long attacks, intense over London and

Parolee Under Arrest In Death of Woman

East Grand Forks, Minn.—(P)—The body of Mrs. Donald F. Lickteig, 21, mother of a 15-month-old daughter, was found yesterday in brush along the Red lake river. Her throat had been hacked in three places.

Searchers had followed a trail of blood from her bedroom a half mile to the river.

Police Chief Harry Gregg said Donald "Swede" Hanson, 24, East Grand Forks, last reported seen with Mrs. Lickteig early Sunday after visits to beer parlors was taken into custody.

Gregg said Hanson was paroled last May 21 from the St. Cloud reformatory where he had been serving a term for burglary. Mrs. Lickteig's husband, Donald, now is serving a sentence at St. Cloud for grand larceny.

Washington Urges Americans In Orient to Return to U. S.

Washington—(P)—The government today advised American citizens in the Far East, especially women and children, to consider the advisability of returning to the United States because of disturbed conditions in that area.

State department officials said that American consuls in Japan, China and other parts of the Orient had been notified to suggest to American citizens the advisability of utilizing transportation facilities now available.

This was described as a continuation of the precautionary policy of the government regarding safety of American citizens in various parts of the world.

The advice was directed especially to women and children and men not detained by essential or urgent considerations.

No Axis Help For Japanese, He Declares

London—(P)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill told an impressively hushed session of parliament today that the Burma road will reopen on schedule Oct. 17.

Japan, he said, could hope for no help from her new allies so long as the fleets of the United States and Great Britain are in existence.

As he spoke, the sound of anti-aircraft gunfire came faintly from the distance.

Churchill explained that the step taken to enable Japan to compose her differences with China had no further meaning now that Japan, instead, had entered into a triple alliance with Germany and Italy.

This alliance he called openly a revival of the anti-comintern pact.

His review of the war, to a house packed with members but almost empty of galleries because of the secrecy of parliamentary sessions these days, was general.

He made it with quiet fervor which never faltered despite guns and sirens often loudly interrupting.

Admits Error
Churchill suggested that the Dakar incident could easily be expanded out of all proportion and confessed there had been both negligence and error in the passage of French ships through Gibraltar to the French West Africa port.

He bespoke confidence in the judgment of General Charles de Gaulle, leader of French forces still fighting with Britain, that Dakarites had been friends of free France until the arrival of those ships altered the situation. He gave assurance that sterner action against the enemy would follow that incident.

Murmurs of approval greeted his statement that the effect of blitzkrieg had been far less damaging than some had feared, that Britain is stronger than she was three months ago, that her vital forces are more numerous rather than depleted.

Cites Nazi Gains
England's experience with bombers has already made it possible to project compulsory retroactive insurance for property damage, he told commons.

Churchill declared Germany must also be increasing her strength by looting occupied countries and making use of their skilled labor.

Only the riches of the New World, becoming increasingly available, could counteract that, he said.

The prime minister emphasized Britain's present desire to see Spain win back prosperity after the civil war. All Britain seeks, he said, is assurance that Spain shall not become an avenue of supply for Britain's enemies.

To that end measures of blockade will always be examined carefully on Spain's behalf, he said.

The prime minister declared flatly that the three-way axis pact "binds Japan to attack the United States if the United States comes into the war" hinted it contained secret clauses and then cried defiantly:

"Neither of the branches of the English-speaking race is accustomed to react to threats of violence by submission."

"And certainly the reception of this strange and ill-balanced declaration, in the United States, has not been at all encouraging for its authors."

Churchill also charged the tri-power pact "in a secondary degree is a point toward Russia" although "primarily" aimed at the United States.

Churchill's hour-long war report made these other points:

1. Hitler's month-old air total warfare on London and Britain's other great cities is diminishing in force, although 8,500 people have been killed and 13,000 wounded since the start of the war and of the use, since Sept. 7, of an average of nearly 400 long-range bombers daily.

2. Disciplinary action has been taken against persons responsible for "errors" in the ill-fated Anglo-French expedition against Dakar, by which French warships were allowed to pass the straits of Gibraltar and defend the Senegalese colony.

Losses at Dakar

Churchill disclosed that one British battleship and one heavy cruiser were damaged at Dakar; that two Yehy submarines were sunk, two destroyers fired one cruiser was hit and the crippled battleship Richelieu further damaged by the British.

Again, the prime minister kept the British on the alert against invader dangers, declaring that Germany was keeping several hundred short range dive bombers at home, perhaps "in reserve for a general plan of invasion."

Churchill conceded that the property damage from the German air raids had been severe, but he declared at the present rate of destruction it would take Hitler 10 years to demolish half the homes of London and "quite a lot of things are going to happen to Hitler... before 10 years."

Churchill set the date for the reopening of the Burma road at Oct. 17, date of expiration of an agreement with Japan under which the British had hoped, Japan would

Willkie Drives Into Flynn's Home Territory

Says Roosevelt Tries To Perpetuate Power With 'Petty Hitlers'

BY THEODORE F. KOOP
New York—(AP)—From neighboring New Jersey, where he accused President Roosevelt of seeking "to perpetuate his power through petty Hitlers," Wendell L. Willkie brought his presidential drive today into the home territory of the Democratic campaign manager.

After a noonday tour of the picturesque garden and theatrical centers, the Republican nominee will speak tonight in the Bronx residence of Democratic Chairman Edward J. Flynn.

Aides expect him to take that occasion to renew the charge he made in a speech last night at Newark, N. J., that "we have political machines just like the Nazi party," operated by little pugny "Hitlers." He added the word "pugny" to his prepared text.

In that address Willkie linked Flynn, whom he called "boss of the Bronx" with Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City and "the commissioner of sewers" in Chicago as "pillars of the New Deal democracy."

To the applause and cheers of a crowd in the Newark stadium estimated by police at 32,000, he shouted:

Cities Issue
This is the issue that a Republican has with the New Deal. The New Deal relies on political bosses. The Republican party relies on the people.

"We are engaged in battle against threatening forces. We are fighting against the forces of federal spending, federal patronage, corrupt city machines, and smear propaganda."

The president, Willkie asserted, "not only has pushed America close to the war in Europe and Asia," but now seeks "to drag the wars of Europe and Asia into American politics."

"He tells us that he, and he alone, represents Democracy," the candidate continued. "But I say that he cannot represent the democracy that I stand for while he seeks to perpetuate his power through petty Hitlers in our own land."

"That is democracy already on the way to dictatorship."

12-Hour Campaign Trip
The Newark speech closed a fast 12-hour campaign trip by motorcade through northern New Jersey, where crowds gathered on city streets and country highways to wave flags or applaud the Republican standard bearer.

Willkie repeatedly criticized Mayor Hague, vice chairman of the Democratic national committee, and invariably brought shouts and handclaps from his listeners.

Following a talk at a Bronx high school early in the evening, Willkie will take part in a question and answer broadcast about the campaign. It will be broadcast by NBC radio network at 8:30 p. m. C. S. T.

Then he will drive through Harlem and other parts of Manhattan, winding up with a street corner talk at 12:30 street. Five minutes later he will leave on his special train to spend the remainder of the week in New England.

WILLKIE INVADERS NEW JERSEY STRONGHOLD OF HAGUE—Carrying his campaign for the presidency into the Democratic stronghold of Frank Hague, Wendell Willkie attacked Hague as a "pugny Hitler" during a day-long motor tour of the heavily populated portions of New Jersey. Here Willkie (arrow) waves to the crowd that greeted him in Journal Square, Jersey City.

Dr. Evans to Speak in City

Ripon College Head Will Talk in Behalf Of Wendell Willkie

Dr. Silas Evans, president of Ripon college, will speak in behalf of Wendell L. Willkie, Republican candidate for president, at a public meeting at 7:45 Monday night, Oct. 14, in the Conway hotel, it was announced today.

The Willkie For President club of Outagamie county will sponsor the meeting.

Dr. Evans, for many years a Democrat, is president of the Willkie and McNary clubs in the state of Wisconsin.

The Ripon college head has appeared frequently as a speaker in Appleton and vicinity.

After receiving his A. B. degree from Ripon, Dr. Evans continued his education at Princeton, where he received his A. M. degree. He earned the B. D. degree at Princeton Theological Seminary and his D. D. degree at Carroll and Middlebury colleges. The degree of L. L. D. was conferred upon him by Lawrence in 1912.

An ordained Presbyterian minister, he was president of Ripon college from 1910 to 1917, president of Occidental college in Los Angeles from 1917 to 1921, returning then to Ripon. He is author of the book, "Currency of the Invisible."

Wallace to Speak in Madison on Oct. 22

Oconomowoc—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace, Democratic nominee for vice president, will deliver a campaign address at Madison Oct. 22, Thomas R. King, of Oconomowoc, Democratic state chairman announced last night.

King said that the former secretary of agriculture would arrive in Madison about noon and speak at the University of Wisconsin field house Tuesday night.

Political Tempo Quickens as Campaigns Go Into High Gear

By The Associated Press
Wendell L. Willkie, holding to his intensive schedule of campaigning, returned to New York today to make a bid for votes in the metropolis which has been a Democratic stronghold in recent elections.

The Republican nominee's New York trip followed a day of campaigning in New Jersey in which he attacked Jersey City's Mayor Frank Hague and accused President Roosevelt of trying to "perpetuate his power through petty Hitlers."

Mr. Roosevelt, meanwhile, was returning to the capital after an inspection of one of the army's biggest arsenals and a 75-mile tour of upstate New York.

The president traveled by special train from his Hyde Park, N. Y. home yesterday to Watervliet where he saw steel being processed into mammoth guns, but then he drove to the Saratoga battlefield detouring through Troy On that part of the trip, and on the way back to Albany, crowds cheered him and he kept his hand aloft almost constantly as he waved to them.

Stage Demonstration
Democrats were holding a rally at Albany and they called it off in time to stage a demonstration for Mr. Roosevelt at the station where he boarded his train for Washington.

Elsewhere there were these political developments:

Jesse Jones, secretary of commerce, made a radio speech for President Roosevelt in which he said that "it has long been my thought that a man coming directly from the business world without experience in public life, regardless of how good a businessman he might be, could not make the best public executive, whether it be in the presidency or a lesser office."

In Washington, a conference of house Republicans adopted a resolution pledging "steadfast allegiance and continuing loyalty" to Willkie.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.) said in the senate that Willkie favored conscription of manpower but not of industry and declared the Republican nominee "thinks more of industry than anything else under

Traffic Club to Elect Committee

The Fox River Valley Traffic club will elect an executive committee of nine members and a secretary and treasurer at a meeting at 7:30 tonight at the Conway hotel annex.

The executive committee and two other officers will choose from their ranks a president and four vice presidents.

Richard Thorne, Menasha, will preside at the meeting at which about 80 men are expected. Members of the nominating committee for tonight's election are Irwin Pearson, Menasha; Fred Bangs, Carl Springborn, and E. J. Balda, Oshkosh; H. A. Matteson, Neenah.

Films on waterfowl and upland game conservation furnished by the Wisconsin conservation commission will be shown.

Jaces Initiate Eight Members, See Movies

The Appleton Junior Chamber of Commerce initiated eight new members at a meeting last night at the Conway hotel.

The new members are Tom Boch, Roland Kuckuk, Clarence Buttenhoff, Hamilton Myers, Robert Ludes, Ralph Hamilton, Carl Koehler, and Kenneth O'Gorman.

Dr. R. V. Lendis showed motion pictures of duck and geese hunting in Canada and Louisiana at the meeting.

Rome and Berlin Can't Help Japanese, Churchill Says

Prime Minister Winston Churchill defied Japan today to seek the help of her new Rome-Berlin allies "so long as the fleets of the United States and Great Britain" rove the high seas.

The British premier threw down the gauntlet as he announced to a hushed parliament in London that Great Britain had decided to reopen the Burma road—the 2,000-mile lifeline of war supplies to China—thereby setting the stage for a possible violent explosion in the Orient.

Simultaneously, the United States government advised American citizens in the Far East to return to this country because of the dangerous new crisis in the Pacific.

Churchill said the agreement to close the Burma road now has no further meaning since Japan—instead of attempting to settle the conflict in China—has entered into a triple alliance with Germany and Italy.

Under Japanese pressure, Britain agreed to close the Burma road for three months. The agreement expires Oct. 17.

The authoritative Japan Times described Britain's decision as "an unmistakable indication that she is taking up with the United States a common front against Japan."

So grave was the situation that all United States consulates throughout the Japanese empire, Manchoukuo, China, French Indo-China and Hong Kong were reported to have received instructions from the state department to advise American citizens to return home as soon as possible.

Approximately 9,000 white Americans reside in the affected areas. At the same time, the Japanese navy was reported to have landed troops on Liu Kung island off Shanghai peninsula—summer base of the British navy's China squadron. Only a short time ago, the Chinese government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek granted Britain renewal of a 10-year lease on the disputed island, but the Japanese-controlled Nanking regime declared the lease terminated.

In Washington, a renewal of talks between Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles and Russian Ambassador Constantine Oumansky stirred speculation of active collaboration by Washington, Moscow and London in the Far East crisis.

Conferees between Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox and Admiral James O. Richardson, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, who flew in from the west coast yesterday, also aroused conjecture.

Unofficially, it was considered possible that the United States might make use of the Great British naval base at Singapore, on Britain's invitation.

Newly "assigned" the dominating role in the Orient by the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis, Japan has stressed repeatedly that any such American move to share Singapore with Britain would be extremely aggravating.

Sitting in on the conferences with Secretary Knox and Admiral Richardson was Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, retired, hard-fisted former commander of the American Asiatic fleet, who has urged greater economic pressure on Japan, more aid to China, and other measures to subdue Japan's empire-expansion ambitions.

Signs increased that Russia has not taken kindly to the new Japanese partnership with Germany and Italy. In London, it was reported that Sir Stafford Cripps, British ambassador to Moscow, has again seen Russian Premier Molotov in a meeting which coincided with the resumption of American-Soviet diplomatic talks.

Amid the ominous developments in the Far East, German warplanes in great numbers unleashed one of the most furious daylight assaults of the war on London.

Striking back in retaliation for the severest aerial bombardment Berlin has undergone, the Nazi raiders caught London during the morning rush hours and dropped screaming salvos of bombs as crowds dashed for cover.

7 Hurt Last Month In City Accidents
Seven persons were injured, five of them pedestrians, as twenty-three traffic accidents were recorded in Appleton during September, according to Sergeant Carl Radtke of the police traffic division. In September of last year 17 traffic accidents were recorded with 1 person killed and 5 injured.

Up to Oct. 1 this year 115 accidents were recorded with 3 killed and 58 injured as compared to 150 accidents, 4 killed and 37 injured during the corresponding period last year.

Diocese Officer At Kansas City Church Parley

Episcopal Conclave To Open Wednesday For 10-Day Session

Mrs. C. E. Hockings, Appleton, educational secretary of Women's Auxiliary of the Fond du Lac diocese, left yesterday for the triennial meeting of the organization to be held at Kansas City, Mo., beginning Wednesday for the next 10 days. She is being accompanied by Mrs. A. L. Barker, Ripon. The general convention of the Episcopal church which is being held at the same time will consider the recent Japanese government restrictions on missionary work and plan for the future of the church's work in that field.

The question of amendment of the church's laws governing the remarriage of divorced persons will arise, the convention receiving a report from a commission which has been studying the subject, and asking for a new canon which permits under certain specified conditions the restoration of communicant status of persons remarried not according to the law of the church.

Final action on proposals for the union of the Presbyterian and Episcopal churches will not be asked of the convention by the commission in charge. The commission will ask in charge that the means be developed whereby the people of the two bodies may become better acquainted, and that the concordat which was proposed as a basis for further action, be continued as a basis for negotiation, with the entire probability of its amendment before any steps are taken for adoption.

The church through its national council has set up machinery for the registration of conscientious objectors in time of war. The commission on non-combatative service is expected to report and from its report may grow discussion and a statement of policy to govern the church's attitude toward the whole problem of war.

The harvest festival which was held Sunday at All Saints Episcopal church was featured by a parish dinner attended by 185 persons.

Fall Institute
The first of a series of fall institutes at Memorial Presbyterian church will take place Thursday evening at the church, beginning with a supper at 6:30 served by Mrs. Elmer Mokros' circle of the Presbyterian guild. The book reader will be on "His Life and Ours" by Dr. Leslie Weatherhead.

Dr. Ira E. Schlagenhauf, Appleton district superintendent of the Methodist church, will take Bishop Ralph S. Cushman to St. Paul Methodist church, Stevens Point, Friday for a dedication service at the church.

Dr. Schlagenhauf will return to Stevens Point on Saturday for a banquet and will preach Sunday morning at the regular church service. He will speak of a Men's club meeting at Antigo this evening.

Twenty-nine teachers and workers in the Sunday school of Trinity English Lutheran church were installed Sunday morning at the church. The local church will be host to a training school for Sunday school workers Friday night, having held a similar meeting last evening at the church.

The adult instruction class will meet at 8 o'clock Thursday night in the vestry.

Skating Party
Christian Endeavor society of Emmanuel Evangelical church will entertain young people of the Evangelical churches in the surrounding area at a roller skating party at 7:15 Thursday night at the armory. The M. M. M. club of First Methodist church will have a hayride party Wednesday evening.

A congregational meeting of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will be held at 7:30 Wednesday night at the church to discuss plans for the dedication services to be held after the remodeling is completed.

A hayride party is planned for Wednesday night by the Senior Fellowship league of St. Paul Lutheran church. The senior choir will meet at 7:45 Thursday night and the junior choir at 7 o'clock Friday night.

Mrs. Taft Will Speak On Behalf of Willkie

Chicago—(AP)—Mrs. Robert A. Taft, wife of the United States senator from Ohio, will deliver three campaign speeches in Illinois and Wisconsin next week in behalf of Wendell Willkie and other Republican candidates.

The Republican national committee announced that Mrs. Taft would speak at Highland Park, Ill., Oct. 13, at Rockford, Ill., Oct. 14, and at Wausau, Wis., Oct. 15.

Little Chute Group Moves to Boost Village

Businessmen Launch Campaign to Attract Industry to Locality

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—The village of Little Chute in Outagamie county, which during past decades has watched other Fox river valley communities grow and prosper upon an industrial foundation, has embarked on a campaign to attract industry to the locality. It was disclosed here today.

The state securities division today studied the application of a group of Little Chute businessmen for authority to register securities of a corporation to promote industrial growth in their town.

According to G. H. Van Hoof, attorney for a group of Little Chute businessmen who yesterday filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state for Little Chute Businessmen's Association, Inc., the project is being promoted by local business and civic leaders and will be financed by $12,000 proposed to be raised by sale of 120 shares of stock to local investors.

If organization details are completed soon, the corporation hopes to proceed with the purchase of land and construction of an industrial plant this fall. Negotiations are already underway with the Connard company of Green Bay, makers of paper converting machinery, for the purchase or lease of the site and plant when it is built.

"The corporation is being formed and the building constructed in fulfillment of an often-expressed wish by many residents of the village of Little Chute that some industry locate there to the growth and benefit of the growing community," Van Hoof, one of the corporation's organizers, said here today.

Announcements for holy communion next Sunday will be received at either parsonage Friday afternoon and evening.

Supply Pastor
During the absence of the Rev. Theodore Marth, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, on a vacation trip for the next two or three weeks, the Rev. O. W. Gammelin, Oconomowoc, will be supply pastor at the local church. Prayer meeting for Wesleyan Methodist church will take place at 7:45 Thursday night at the church. The Rev. and Mrs. N. J. Remmenga are attending the ministers' institute at Burr camp grounds near Hillsboro, Wis., this week.

First Church of Christ, Scientist will have a testimony meeting at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at the church. "Unreality" was the subject of the lesson-sermon for Sunday. The following passage was read from the Bible: "I know that, whatever God doeth, it shall be for ever; nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before Him. That which hath been is now, and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past."

Kills 2 Birds With 1 Stone In Balkan Move

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

New York—(AP)—Hitler's British empire. This would be calculated to enable them to get troops into Syria and Palestine, and to capture the rich oil fields of Iraq which now are controlled by Britain.

Control of Rumania also would be necessary if Mussolini were to carry out operations against Greece, or Yugoslavia. Rumania is the handy tool for innumerable uses.

However, as I see it Hitler's move is aimed in no small degree at Russia. He and Comrade Stalin ostensibly are friends because of their anti-aggression pact, but practically there can be little doubt that they both keep their guns handy as they walk together.

Hitler's assumption of control over Rumania is a direct answer to Stalin's comparatively recent occupation of Rumanian territory. The Muscovite chief figured on securing control of the lower Danube and the Rumanian naval bases, thereby providing both a defense against Germany and a possible route for expansion toward the Dardanelles.

First off, to my mind, Germany cementing the control already is established over this country, is such domination will prove further with a strategic position of the vast importance.

Two Advantages
There are two advantages which I would emphasize. The first, which is a military base (for dot military) Rumania lies on the Black Sea (either for offense or defense) against Russia, and it will prevent jumping off place for a possible drive down through the Balkan axis the Dardanelles and the eastward to the Mediterranean.

Second, apart from this, Germany's access to the Rumanian oil resources which is essential for war generations Hitler can draw on Rumania's great granaries. In Rumania the lower reach has the Danube which affords the able navigation clear into Genoa.

What use is the Nazi Fuehrer making of this new strait? Well, that's where we entangle the entering wedge for as the Balkans in control drive with the battle of the Mediterranean. This naturally establishes a grave threat to pro-British Turkey which lies right across the route to the Black Sea.

Aimed at Russia
If Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini could overrun that territory, assume the strategically vital and seizable, it would give them a Jarda-nian in their assault again against the Milwaukee—(AP)—Governor Heil said today he had cancelled two campaign addresses scheduled for this week "because of demands for immediate action on the national defense program."

"The appointment of administrators to the emergency draft board and the setting up of the draft machinery is of primary importance at the present time," Heil said.

"I cannot sacrifice my time in my own behalf for reelection when our nation's welfare may depend on speedy action now."

bunt, F. McCormick to Joost, who covered first. With a one-and-one count, Bartell raised a high pop-fly to Joost on the base-path near second. McCosky walked on five pitches. With the count one and one, Gehring sent a sharp grounder to Werber, who stopped the ball but had to pick it up and throw wild to first, the sphere getting past F. McCormick and Sullivan coming home before F. McCormick could throw to Wilson. The play was scored as a single and an error for Werber. Greenberg got the count to three and two, then fanned on a high one inside. One run, two hits, one error, two left.

Reds—With the count one and one, Myers looped a single into short left. Duggan attempting to bunt on the first pitch, popped directly into Newsum's glove. Myers held first. Werber knocked the first pitch straight at Higgins, who threw to Gehring, forcing Myers at second. M. McCormick worked the count to two and two, then struck out. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Fourth Inning
Tigers—With the count one and one, York lifted a pop-fly to Wilson in front of the Tigers' dugout. After looking at two balls, Campbell raised a high fly to Goodman. Higgins hit a hot grounder that Werber deflected against the railing in front of the left-field stands and had to run down. Higgins getting a double before the ball could be retrieved. Sullivan was walked intentionally. Newsum hit a grounder that struck Higgins as he was running toward third, making an automatic out. With Newsum getting credit for a single and Myers a putout. No runs, two hits, no errors, two left.

Reds—With the count two and two, Goodman struck out. F. McCormick took one ball, then raised a high fly to McCosky in left-center. After taking one strike, Ripple grounded out to York, unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Fifth Inning
Tigers—Bartell lined the first pitch to M. McCormick, who took it without moving. McCosky looked at one strike, then flied to Goodman in right field. With the count one strike and two balls, Gehring lifted a pop fly to Myers. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Reds—With the count one strike and two balls, Wilson lined a single into right-center. Al Benton, a right-hander, warmed up in the Tigers' bullpen. With the count two strikes and one ball Joost grounded into a double play. Gehring to Bartell to York. On the first pitch, Myers raised a long fly to Campbell in right center. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

Sixth Inning
Tigers—Greenberg looked over one ball, then drove a hard single into left-center. After taking one ball, York lifted a high fly to Joost near second base. Campbell looked at two balls, fouled off three pitches, and finally walked. Myers went back of second to make a fancy stop of Higgins' grounder and stepped on second, forcing Campbell, but Higgins beat his throw to first, and Greenberg reached third unopposed. F. McCormick, crouching on his knees, stopped Sullivan's grounder and walked to first for the putout. No runs, one hit, no errors, two left.

Reds—Derringer took one strike, then raised a high fly to Campbell. Werber, after looking at one strike, popped to Bartell in front of second base. With the count one and one, M. McCormick hit a clean double into right-center. Goodman lined the first pitch at McCosky, who started in and then backed up to make the catch. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Seventh Inning
Tigers—Newsum took a strike, then raised a short fly to right field which Joost caught after an easy run. Bartell lined the first pitch to Werber. With the count one and one, McCosky lifted a fly to M. McCormick in deep center. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Reds—F. McCormick drove the first pitch on one bounce against the fence in left field, 380 feet from home-plate, for a double. Ripple picked out the first pitch and slammed it against the screen in front of the bleachers in right field for two bases, bringing F. McCormick in with the tying run. Fans threw cushions and paper onto the field and Newsum huddled with his infielders while the playing field was being cleared. Both Benton and Tommy Bridges began warming up in Detroit's bullpen. Wilson took a strike, then sacrificed Ripple to third. Higgins to York.

Ernie Lombardi, the Reds' injured catcher, a right-handed hitter, batted for Joost. Manager Del Baker of the Tigers came out of the dugout and ordered an intentional walk for Lombardi. Linus Frey, who had been kept out of action by a broken toe, ran for Lombardi. Myers bunted foul on the first pitch, waited out three wide balls, then lifted a high fly which McCosky took against the center-field wall, Ripple scoring after the catch and Frey holding first. Sullivan made a snap throw to York and Frey slid back into first, grabbing the bag with his hand in a flurry of dust. After looking at two strikes and one ball, Derringer sent a grounder to Higgins, who threw to Gehring, forcing Frey at second. Two runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

Eighth Inning
Tigers—Frey went to second base for the Reds. With the count one and one, Gehring knocked a ground single into right field. Greenberg fouled the first pitch then lined directly at Myers, but Gehring scrambled back to first to prevent a double-play. On the first

Republicans to Map Election Campaign

A coordinated drive for votes for Republican candidates in the November election will be mapped at a meeting of executive committees of the Republican senior party, women's organization and Young Republicans tonight at the county headquarters in the Zuelke building. Party candidates will meet with the committees.

Wednesday evening the party precinct committeemen will meet at the courthouse to name officers. Alvin O'Konsky of the party's state speakers' bureau will talk.

Dairy Day Plans Are Developed

Plans for the Dairy day promotion to be sponsored by Appleton merchants and Outagamie county dairymen and organizations Oct. 17, 18 and 19 were developed at a meeting of the merchants committee yesterday in the office of Kenneth H. Corbett, Appleton Chamber of Commerce secretary.

Members of the committee are C. E. Mullen, H. F. Heckert, and Karl Haugen. J. F. Magnus, county agricultural agent, is working with this group.

The principal topics of discussion at the meeting were publicity and displays for the 3-day promotion of dairy products sales.

Clerks will be fitted out with white caps and buttons advertising the promotion. It was reported, and more than 30 stores already have indicated they will sponsor extensive displays.

Dairy "bars" will be set up in Appleton stores during the 3-day event. Streamers will be distributed among the merchants.

pitch York lifted a high fly which M. McCormick took after a run in right-center. Campbell hit a high fly to Goodman in right field. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Reds—Werber was called out on a third pitch. M. McCormick laid down a drag bunt along the third base line and Higgins, running in and trying to field the ball with his bare hand, was unable to pick it up and it was a single. Goodman struck out. F. McCormick raised a high pop to Bartell near second base. No runs, one hit, no errors, one left.

Ninth Inning
Tigers—Higgins grounded out. Werber to F. McCormick. F. McCormick took Sullivan's grounder and beat him to the bag. Earl Averill, a left handed batter, pinch hit for Newsum. Averill grounded out. Frey to F. McCormick. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Clapper Scores Attempt to Smear Willkie as Pro-Hitler

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER

Washington—By all indications Roosevelt is far in the lead in the presidential campaign. That makes it all the more puzzling and the less excusable that he should go out of his way to try to plaster a pro-Hitler label on Willkie.

It isn't true that Willkie is pro-Hitler. He has supported Roosevelt in urging aid for Britain. He has said it not once but over and over. He has not said it in a weasel-worded whisper but has shouted it from one end of the country to the other. He has said it in face of Republican politicians who wanted him to make a political football of Roosevelt's foreign policy. To the anguish of vote-hunting Republicans, he publicly repudiated the support of Father Coughlin. Whatever history may say about Willkie, it will be grossly unfair if it does not give him credit for frankly and boldly placing the nation's interest above party politics.

Instead of giving credit where credit is due, Roosevelt, who thought he would have no time for politics, utilizes a leading question at his press conference to smear his opponent. A reporter asked whether the president had any reason to believe the Germans and Italians were working for his defeat. Roosevelt thereupon picked up a copy of the New York Times and read a paragraph from that newspaper's Rome correspondent who stated on his own that the axis was out to beat Roosevelt.

The president is no amateur in politics. He knows all the tricks. He knew when he read this quotation at his press conference that the resulting news dispatches would paste a pro-Hitler tag on Willkie. The incident followed up Henry Wallace's acceptance speech, which was largely devoted to the idea that Hitler was trying to elect Willkie. Governor Lehman of New York put in his oar to the same effect.

The record shows that some Republicans are against Roosevelt's foreign policy. But they do not dictate Willkie's stand, and they should have no more effect on him as president than Senator Bennett Clark and other isolationist Democrats have had on Roosevelt.

Willkie has stated his belief in aid for Britain so positively and so often that it is a cruel misrepresentation for the president of the United States to use the enormous publicity power of the White House press conference to try to make it appear that Willkie is sympathetic to Hitler.

Because Roosevelt is near victory it becomes all the more desirable that he look beyond election day. He said the crisis was so great that he had to lay aside his personal desire to retire, and submit to the draft. It would seem equally imperative therefore to forego playing politics with the crisis and to be concentrating on what we shall face after the election.

A Long Way Now From National Unity

First we shall face the need for national unity. We are a long way from having it. I have been traveling around and I find no softening of hostility toward Roosevelt among the business men. They still distrust him. They fear him. Roosevelt appears to be winning this election with mostly the same people who elected him before. He has not won over the others. They are numerically small but they are economically powerful, and our system will limp on missing cylinders until their hearts go into the Roosevelt defense.

program. They want defense but they are afraid of Roosevelt defense.

Roosevelt was vindictive after his 1932 victory. He was vindictive after 1936. Some of those who believe most strongly in the essentials of his program, as I do, are fearful that after another victory this tendency will show itself again and prolong the internal civil division in an hour when we can ill afford it.

Throughout these recent years of crisis, Roosevelt has been far ahead of his critics in understanding our progress toward healing the internal wounds that must be healed if we are to rise to our full national efficiency in this decisive test.

Roosevelt could well, on the day after election if he wins, invite Willkie to take a conspicuous part in the defense program. Willkie has talents that would be invaluable to the nation in such a role. Nothing would do more toward inspiring the national unity and confidence so sorely needed and so grievously absent. But Roosevelt will make any such move impossible if he succeeds in affixing to Willkie a fake pro-Hitler tag.

ter the weekend's weather-encouraged lapse, was said by the high command to have cost the British 32 planes shot down in air-fighting over England against a loss of 13 German aircraft.

It reported two other British planes downed by anti-aircraft fire as they approached Berlin in raids which, it said, made the German capital the "main objective."

"Defense measures forced the majority to turn off," it said, "while part reached the reich's capital. Bombs again hit several hospitals, apartment houses and storehouses as well as railway tracks, causing property damage in some places."

Officials said five hospitals were hit.

There were no details of the attack on Hamburg beyond the bare announcement in Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' newspaper Der Angriff that British warplanes had raided the North sea harbor as well as Berlin during the night.

Advices from Amsterdam said eight persons were killed there in what was described as the heaviest British raid of the war so far on that city. Incendiary and explosive bombs caused much damage.

Suit Against Medical Association Dropped

Chicago — Because Illinois statutes do not provide for such actions on behalf of dead persons, the $150,000 libel suit filed three years ago against the American Medical association by Robert E. Wadlow, the late Alton, Ill., giant has been dropped, court attaches said. Wadlow, who died in Michigan last July, charged that an article in the association journal held him up to public ridicule.

370 Attend Youth Fellowship Conference at Black Creek

Black Creek—About 370 attended the youth Fellowship conference of the Appleton area at St. John Evangelical church Sunday afternoon and evening.

Lawrence Witthuhn, Miss Edna Thomas and Miss Adela Peters were in charge of registration. The latter also was organist at the devotional service at 3 o'clock and Miss Bernice Blake was the leader. H. C. Ahrensbrak, principal of Beaver Dam High school, was the speaker. He encouraged the young people to cling to Christianity. He also encouraged them to go to their pastor when they have conflicts in their life.

At the business meeting the constitution was adopted to have two meetings a year, in the spring and fall. The Evangelical and Reformed church at Kiel has extended an invitation to have the spring conference there.

The Rev. Edmund Hennig of Chil-ton, pastor adviser, was chairman of the youth talent hour at 7 o'clock at the Community hall. Readings and various musical numbers were given by the different churches.

A social hour was in charge of the Evangelical League of St. John church, which sponsored the conference. Miss Adela Peters was the pianist and Miss Leone Peters led the singing. John Kluge was in

A Man Speaks His Resentment

The girl at Detroit who cleaned out an office and dumped everything but the desks on the crowd that gathered to view Mr. Willkie, at least had some personal courage.

And that brings us to the base and yellow whispering campaign against the Republican nominee which was started by the seed Mr. Wallace planted, continued by the banker-politician governor of New York, Mr. Lehman, and slyly stimulated by Mr. Roosevelt, who immediately ran out, as he did on the joint debate, because unable to face the target of his poisonous animosity.

To all this whispering, mudslinging, grimacing campaign, Mr. Willkie made a grim pert response when he said at New York:

"Any man, no matter how high his position, who impugns the completeness of my patriotism is a coward and a cur."

The crowd liked it and understood. Someone then shouted at Mr. Willkie asking whether he was a captain in Idealist War No. 1. The nominee responded that he did not become recommended for a captaincy until after two years of work.

It is the slinkers and the yellowbacks, the mollycoddling milkops and the quivering white feathers that may be depended upon to carry dastardly attack upon those who went to work in manly fashion when they thought their country was in danger. The soldier at the front like Willkie who never asked for a reward or a cushion is a traitor and the swivel chaired giggler who used influence to gain safety is a patriot.

It certainly requires a painful of hot gall for a fat banker politician like Lehman or a bunch of shirking Roosevelts to pour out carbon monoxide of this virulent type emphasizing it with graceful gestures from lily white hands that never clutched anything more callous-producing than a tennis racket.

See How They Run

The American Legion, in a perfectly American way, recently started court action in New York to test the right of one Gerson to hold his $3,000 per annum job on the public payroll. It merely alleged that Gerson was a member of the Communist party. It was prepared to submit, and ask the court to decide, whether any person could feed at the table he expected to smash, could participate in the work and the decisions to be made by a democratic government which he plotted to overthrow by violence and assassination.

The Reds who have been very litigious, always anxious to talk about the constitution and particularly the Bill of Rights, seem to lose stomach when the election comes around. When Gerson resigned, quit cold, and denied the Legion a chance of getting a direct decision upon its proposition.

It is wonderful what the approach of an election can do to this country. The soft and lazy Indian summer, the pleasant sun and gentle breezes, the azure sky and the ripened fruit, the harvest and the rear of an athletic crowd—all these are wondrous music to the ear but they are hardly anything in comparison to the perfection sweetly modeled by those with power: to keep the people undisturbed as much as possible until they have marked their ballots.

Then the dust may be kicked up and probably Gerson put back on his job.

Japan Believes in Liberalism

The statement delivered upon the part of Japan by Matsushita should bring grief to the illegitimate Cabinet at least.

For Matsushita says that the trouble with America is that we aren't "liberal" over here and are still "clinging to old conceptions and attempting to impede those who desire a swift change to the better."

This makes it unanimous. Every ruler is using the same hook to bewilder the people. Stalin is fighting for liberalism. So is Hitler. And Mussolini has been battling for it for years. Blum was a liberal. Franco was a highfalutin liberal. And now the land of the Asiatic cherry blossoms is liberal too.

And there is only one real reactionary, according to these pronounced liberals, and that is America. It does look as though the lordly Roosevelt will have to get a new word.

We suggest honey.

Fanning the War Fever

The Gallup poll indicates that a majority of our people favor the extension of further assistance to Great Britain beyond points already reached even if by so doing we hazard our own inclusion among the warriors.

This is another of the stations of the war cross.

In 1914 we started out in World War No. 1 without the slightest idea of participating. We rather looked down upon those people who found armed conflict a necessary instrument of government.

Gradually our resentment grew at what was taking place in Europe. Our blood began to boil at atrocities, many of which we now know were falsely painted just to pop our corks. With a mixture of fact and fancy, truth and propaganda, and a conviction that we were next and we better fight while we still had allies, we waded into the thick of the contest carrying the banner of St. George and battling for God and the Right.

The road is much the same today. A few old shacks have been pulled down and some of the ugliest landscapes beautified. But the road is the same. And it is in the same place.

The axis powers have understood world opinion much better this time than the central powers understood it in 1914. There is a determined effort by Rome and Berlin to keep America out of the struggle by mixing in their concoctions a drop of fear with a drop of threat and another drop of pretended friendship with still a further drop of good will. And they have been smart enough to eliminate from the concoction practically all atrocities of the nature of those that made this country see red during World War No. 1.

England, too, is handling us in a much more intelligent and enlightened manner. When Sir George Paish, a remnant of the force that took us in camp in 1917, began to brag how he would get us into this war he was quickly recalled as London announced that he had no authority to speak for the British empire and it regretted the looseness of his tongue.

But of course we see but a very little of the picture which concerns even our own land. We will never know until years after the contest is over what has been done by both sides, one to get us in and the other to keep us out.

We must be wary. Our future is fraught with peril. And however heavily America sympathizes with England that nation cannot shed its share of the blame for waiting until it was almost lost to put its Churchill in the saddle.

Democracies must pay the penalty and accept the result of their weakness in turning away from their men of great ability until desperation compels them to discard the weak little pumpnickels parading as statesmen.

Meantime the war fever will probably continue to mount.

War Plants of Tomorrow

The War Department has sent letters to the owners of plants engaged in war work or building plants for such work advising the construction of air raid shelters.

This is all right insofar as existing plants are concerned but is wholly insufficient in respect to the construction of new plants.

Plants built to produce essential war necessities must be built underground. They must be built into the sides of hills or mountains or otherwise concealed from sight and attack.

Modern methods make the lighting and ventilation of such plants simple affairs. To lag in this respect is to play old fogey.

GIFTS

Always he came to her with great arms filled With flowers and gifts. He scarcely ever passed A store without a thought of her. He stilled Her mild rebuke with laughter. To the last He loved her dearly, coming to her side With lily clusters on the day she died.

Now he has gone, and we can picture him Calling to her through Heaven's open door. Her lovely eyes will smile, and then grow dim With love of him as they have dimmed before. And she will welcome him, knowing the years Have filled his arms with gifts of love and tears.

POTATO-BUG WAR

Recurrent complaints and accusations indicate that Germany, for some reason, has become acutely conscious this year of the Colorado potato bug. Some weeks ago patrols in the Harz Mountains were explained by the necessity of preventing this pest of American origin from entering the Reich through France. Now the Nazis charge that British airmen are dropping bags of the insects on Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany.

The British, incidentally, deny they are using this form of attack. Moreover a Harvard entomologist points out that Germany is not, as one would gather from the hurt tone of the complaints, customarily free from potato bugs. On the contrary, it has been severely afflicted for some years.

The people of Europe are eating more potatoes this year to make up for deficiencies in other foods. Part of the crop is also going into the manufacture of various products. So the potato supply may run low this winter in Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. If so, straws in the wind suggest that it will be the fault of the potato bug.

So be it. Nobody likes the potato bug. But having established that fact, it is necessary to blame the potato bug on somebody else. First it was the French, then it was the British. In the end how can the Coloradans hope to escape?—Washington Post.

BY DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN
Washington—There was a special reason why Defense Commissioner William Knudsen was invited to accompany the president on his Maryland defense inspection tour.

Knudsen is an expert on production, and Roosevelt visited certain arsenals and airplane factories. But in addition, Knudsen is under heavy pressure from former business associates to declare publicly for Wendell Willkie.

Behind the scenes, they are pulling hard for the Republican candidate. Alfred P. Sloan, Knudsen's former boss and close friend, has called for the election of Willkie as necessary for sound economic progress.

A similar pronouncement by Knudsen, who is No. 1 man of the defense commission, would be a smash coup for Willkie—particularly if it were coupled with the inference that Knudsen has encountered difficulties with the administration in doing his defense job.

Actually relations between Knudsen and Roosevelt are very cordial. Knudsen is his own boss and recently the president has been consulting him not only on defense matters but on general national policies involving foreign affairs.

However, while on intimate terms with the White House, Knudsen has had some brushes elsewhere. He and treasury officials crossed swords over certain phases of the new excess profits tax bill. Also the protracted congressional delay over plant amortization, while no fault of Roosevelt's, irked Knudsen considerably, since it threw a monkey wrench into production schedules on which he had worked hard and of which he was very proud.

Aware of this private irritation, certain of Knudsen's former business pals have been quietly needing him to bolt the defense commission with a ringing demand for the election of Willkie.

This political pressure has not been entirely from the outside. Some heavy licks have been put in by certain dollar-a-year business tycoons inside the defense commission, several of them on Knudsen's own staff.

With the tax bill and last appropriation measures finally cleared by congress, Knudsen is immersed in getting his production scheduled into high gear and has given no indication of being influenced by politics. But the GOPers are putting on the heat from every direction and as hard as they can.

NAZI PROPAGANDA

Information throwing light on Germany's falsification of radio reports has been received by the state department from Colonel E. J. Ragsdale of Philadelphia, who declares that his daughter was falsely impersonated in a Berlin broadcast.

The Nazis pretended to have the young woman, Miss Natalia Ragsdale, in their broadcast studio. They presented her to American listeners to testify to the ruthlessness of British bombing. She spoke, describing the bombing of a hospital in Berlin. Then the German speaker, "Lord Haw Haw," said, "American listeners must now believe, from the lips of an American young woman, what atrocities the British are committing."

The only trouble was that the Germans were too clever. Instead of inventing a name, they had actually picked a known American woman and pretended that she was speaking at the microphone.

The broadcast was heard by an associate of Colonel Ragsdale in Philadelphia, who phoned him and asked, "Is your daughter in Berlin?" "Of course not," replied Ragsdale, "she is right here in the room with me."

AIR-CORD SPEECH

When Wendell Willkie makes up his mind to make a speech, he makes it.

During his trip across Iowa, his campaign train passed through Waterloo, a good sized industrial center, and Cedar Falls, a college town. Although only six or seven miles apart, talks had been scheduled and advertised for both places.

En route some of the train managers decided to pass up Cedar Falls in order to permit a longer stop at Waterloo. Howard Gallagher, train majordomo, gave these instructions to the engineer.

To Arch McFarlane of Waterloo, former lieutenant governor, this was poor political judgment. He insisted that to fail to stop in Cedar Falls would cause resentment. But the generalissimo refused to listen. So Arch elbowed his way into Willkie's car and put the matter up to him.

"You can't pass up Cedar Falls," McFarlane argued. "The town has gone Republican in every election in its history, and the college has dismissed classes so the 3,500 students can hear you."

"You are absolutely right, Arch," said Willkie. "I won't disappoint those people. We'll stop. Tell them I said to adhere to the original schedule."

But by this time the train was rolling into the outskirts of Cedar Falls and it was too late to get word to the engineer. That didn't faze Willkie.

"The way to stop a train," he grinned, "is to pull the air cord."

A secretary reached up, jerked the cord, the train came to a halt and Willkie made his scheduled talk.

SENATORIAL FEUD

The United States Senate, sometimes called a gentlemen's club, actually is rife with personal feuds—and usually between senators from the same state. For instance, Senator Bilbo of Mississippi is no friend of Pat Harrison from the same state; Senator McCarran of Nevada has done his best to undercut statesmanlike Senator Pittman, also from Nevada; while Rush Holt of West Virginia sabotages Senator Neely, the man who helped him get elected.

But perhaps the bitterest feud has been between the two Senators from Washington—Borah and Schwellenbach. Both Democrats, both New Dealers, they have fought each other tooth and nail. Federal appointments have been held up because of their inability to agree on an appointee.

The rivalry became so bitter that Senator Borah's political machine, headed by Saul Haas, threatened to oppose Schwellenbach's re-election. And in the face of this opposition, Schwellenbach is stepping out of the senate to become a federal judge.

This was expected to leave Senator Borah holding down his senate seat in solitary splendor. However, it now seems certain that Borah also will leave the senate. He has been ill, is fed up with legislative affairs, and expects to resign around January 1. His close political friend and supporter, Collector of Customs Haas, has just arrived from Seattle to persuade him to change his mind. But he is not having much luck. It looks as if Borah would follow Schwellenbach back to Washington.

Note—If Borah returns to the practice of law, he may some day have to appear before his old rival, Judge Schwellenbach.

CITY GOES INTO BUSINESS

Editor Post-Crescent—Several weeks ago, as most interested taxpayers know, the mayor and the city council voted to place all the city insurance with the exception of the schools in the Wisconsin State Fire Fund, which as any fair minded business man knows is a soundest method of handling any business, and this action thereby deprived forty or fifty local insurance tax payers of a few dollars commission that they were legitimately entitled to.

As everyone also knows, the state going into the insurance business is only a stepping stone toward their going into any other business to compete with the American business man, the only difference being that if they went into the meat business, the dry goods business, or the paint business, they could only lose a small amount of money per year; whereas, in the hazardous business of insurance they could easily bankrupt the State of Wisconsin with a few fires.

When the officials of a city act socialist or communistic minded, you can easily see it in their official actions, and following up their action on the insurance matter, they put another nail in the coffin of American business at the Friday night meeting of the city council by voting to reject all of the contractors bids on the swimming pool and doing the work by day labor under the supervision of the board of public works.

It was the opinion of the mayor and part of the council that the bids for the swimming pool were too high, although about six bids were received and they were all within a limit of about 5 per cent of each other. The contractors will tell you that the only reason the bids were as high as they were was on account of the complicated structure of the pool, which would not have been the case if any other kind of pool but the patented Hunter pool had been selected.

This action of the mayor and the council now deprives local contractors who are substantial taxpayers from having an opportunity to make a profit on this job. But the peculiar thing about the whole matter is that you will notice the council is still going to build a Hunter pool, which of course is a patented proposition and the Hunter people are getting a fee of over three times the usual architectural or engineers fee for construction work. So of course here is another instance of favoring an outside concern and taking business away from local people.

I have been told by an alderman that some of the council went to Milwaukee to look at one of the City of Milwaukee pools and found one there that would be just the thing for the City of Appleton that would cost at least $15,000 less to build and it would also be cheaper to operate. So if the council was so economically minded and wanted to save the tax payers money when they rejected the bids, why didn't they also throw out the patented Hunter pool and save that additional $9,000 for the tax payers.

Why is the mayor and the council such a good judge of whether bids on any project are too high, and also why are they so sure that this work can be done cheaper by the Board of Public Works? As any taxpayer knows, this will be the same proposition as a WPA job, except that in this instance there won't be any money coming from the government to help pay for the inefficiency of the workmen, and any fair minded man knows that the contractor could have done most of the WPA jobs in the United States at a saving of from 25 to 40 per cent over and above what it cost the cities and the government.

As long as the mayor and the council are so sure that they can save money by doing this job themselves and since any contractor who did it would have to put up a bond to guarantee that he would do the job according to specifications and within the contract price, why wouldn't it be the fair and proper thing for the board of public works to guarantee to the taxpayers that by doing this work it will be done at a cost not to exceed the low bid.

Just ask some of the Board of Public Works what they think of this proposition and you will soon find out how ridiculous they think it is. But nevertheless it is just what the taxpayers should demand and have a right to expect.

INTERESTED TAXPAYER.

DEFENSE OF AMERICA

Editor, Post-Crescent—October 15 the boys of Company 'D' began their year of military training which is theoretically designed to prepare them for defense. This is a great movement and I'm for it to the extent of having enlisted in the company myself. There are one or two things however which remain a bit vague and undecided. First, just what is it the boys are supposed to defend, America, or some dot on the map out in the Pacific? Second, what choice or alternative have the boys got if some corrupt "moneybags" decides to send them over to protect a pet oilwell or sugar plantation? The answer is quite obvious and has been proven in the past. The boys will defend all and everything Mr. Moneybags wants them to, with the alternative a stone wall and

Not Always on the Other Fellow

Under the Capitol Dome

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Political platforms are notoriously hodge-podge affairs, thrown together in hurried confusion, and containing the pet ideas of various influential politicians. Yet they constitute the only official record of a political party's stand on current questions and problems, and presumably the state mottoes contained in them are to be taken at their face value by the electorate at which they are slanted.

Wyngaard

Therefore some of the points contained in the 1940 state platforms are worth more than passing notice because of their implications for the Wisconsin political situation as we know it.

Republicans were stung in 1939 when they found for various reasons that they could not deliver the ambitious promises made in the 1938 platform. That is probably the reason for the general phrases in which the platform this year discussed such matters as social security, one of the paramount governmental problems in the state today.

NOT THE OPPOSITION

Not so the Democrats and Progressives, however. Both explicitly pledge broad liberalizations of the social security laws, including old age pensions, which if attempted will dictate huge new appropriations and new taxation.

Progressives, moreover, made the most significant contribution on the subject when they proposed to eliminate entirely the cost of the program now borne by the local units of government.

The importance of that proposition is dramatized when it is realized that the counties of Wisconsin are now spending nearly $5,000,000 a year for the social security program—aid to the aged, dependent children and blind,—in addition to heavy contributions for WPA, general relief and other forms of welfare.

Such a proposal would virtually dictate the doubling of the present state social security budget annually, in spite of the fact that successive state administrations, including the present administration, have consistently found themselves unable to appropriate enough money to meet demands under the current financing plan.

The social program is now the single largest phase of the big public assistance program in Wisconsin. It counts nearly 60,000 cases (not persons) on its rolls, is therefore bigger than either WPA, financed largely by Washington, or general relief, almost exclusively a local burden.

WELCOME BUT

Undoubtedly county governments of Wisconsin, hard pressed to stretch their tax base to meet the constantly increasing costs of social security, would be glad to be relieved of paying the approximately one fifth of the total costs they are supporting under the present laws.

But the practical problem of the ability of the state to absorb the load, recognizing that the rate of increase in the caseload shows no tendency to slacken, is not touch-

GRAY HAIR FOLL

In order to keep the record clear I hereby solemnly declare that I have never said or intentionally implied that taking the iodine ration or supplementing the diet with vitamin B complex or both together will restore the natural color to gray hair. Numerous readers have assured me that one or both of these have had some effect, but in printing these reports I have invariably taken pains to express my own skepticism. So, if any one tells you that Dr. Brady says iodine or vitamin B or anything else will restore lost color to the hair advise him or her that they are misinformed.

This disclaimer is occasioned by the following testimonial: "... and I would like to say that I will be 46 years old this month, that I had quite a few gray hairs before I started taking the iodine ration and the vitamin B complex capsules. For the last seven months I have not had one gray hair. You know it is a great stimulant to a woman to look so young!"

I know this. When I am in fine fettle, say on coming home after an afternoon on the bowling green where I have trimmed a couple of the big shots, I can scarcely notice any gray hairs. But when I'm feeling pretty weary, say after a too long day at my desk, I can see a great many gray ones where all was sleek before. I am compelled to conclude that one with a more cheerful outlook does not discover gray hairs in his or her head as readily as does one who is in comparatively low spirits. A nip of iodine now and then helps to keep one in a cheerful frame of mind. A fair daily intake of vitamin B complex—more than one can get in foods nowadays—helps to keep one's health status at the optimal level instead of just fair, and that, too, tends to make everything in life seem better.

What I do say about gray hair in the "Instructions for Taking an Iodine Ration" (for copy send stamped envelope bearing your address) is this:

As a manifestation of iodine shortage adults may show a chronic fretting feeling and lack of usual or former ambition, energy or pep, with little refreshment from rest or a vacation... tendency toward depression of spirits or melancholia, premature aging, premature graying of hair... mental torpor... poor circulation, cold hands and feet...

I also say something about preventing high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries. But I'm still from Missouri in regard to restoring natural color to gray hair.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Nose and Throat Specialist
Demise of a nose and throat specialist at height of his career in midwestern city makes an opening for a young man with such training, especially if he can carry on the tonsil diathermy work. The deceased upon those who advocate the change.

The state government this year is going to run half a million dollars short in paying its share of old age pensions, despite the fact that the Heil administration created new revenues by new taxation last year.

It is therefore obvious that if the state government proposes to pay its own share, take into account increases during the next biennium, and absorb besides the portion of the load now supported by the 71 counties, radical changes in the state tax structure are in prospect. So formidable will the financing problem be that practical observers can be excused for wondering if that proposal will ever be achieved, particularly during a period when the national government is stepping up its tax collections to pay for an immense armaments program.

Famous Buckwheat Flour

I have just returned from a visit to our old haunts around Penn Yan, where I believe you practiced for some years. I was pleased to learn this when I sought some of the Burkett Mill Buckwheat flour which you recommended. By the way I am sending you a package of the buckwheat—testimonial of the affection of the family for "Old Doc Brady" (E. W. G.). Answer—Penn Yan, N. Y., is famous for the buckwheat flour and for having been the home of yours sincerely in the first sad years of his attempt to practice medicine, honestly.

Mineral Food

Which minerals are essential for the health of the body? Do you agree with — that one must take sixteen minerals daily? (Mrs. E. M. S.) Answer—That is just mail-order hokum. If you get sufficient calcium, phosphorus and iron you needn't worry about the other minerals. Foods richest in these are listed in 90-page booklet "Feeders Digest"—for copy send twenty-five cents coin and 1-c-stamped envelope bearing your address.

Asthma and Sinus Trouble

Have had miraculous results from taking soluble potassium chloride tablets dissolved in water as directed in your pamphlet "Relief for Allergy." May I continue taking five or ten grains daily without any harm to my system if it keeps me comfortable? (L. E. S.)

Answer—Yes. The pamphlet "Relief for Allergy" is available on request, if you enclose stamped envelope bearing your address. Ask for one on "Asthma" if you want it.

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. ## Johnson Again Takes Up His Crusade Against All Polls

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON

Washington, D. C.—The political practice about these modern polls is like Skylock with Portia, to praise them when their forecast is favorable and curse them otherwise. I can escape that charge. I have long regarded all these "sampling" polls as a public evil capable of vicious abuse. They won't tell their exact method. They resist investigations that would reveal more than their "general principles." These are not enough to determine whether in the science of mathematics they stand even on a sound formula of probabilities.

They refer to their record of accuracy. Sometimes it has been remarkable, but since they do not claim accuracy within 3 or 4 per cent and many an election has turned on less than that, it is not very convincing—especially since they are very coy in reporting the actual number (not the percentage) of "undecided" answers by location. The clouds their whole result.

I have been an anti-poll crusader ever since the 1936 Literary Digest poll, which had convinced the country of its accuracy by the same repeated assertions as Doctor Gallup's. It showed a Landon landslide. I did a little prognostication myself and came within two states of being as accurate as Jim Farley. We were both far more accurate than any of these polls and, as for the Literary Digest, which had threatened me with a suit for libel, it was heard no more.

Now Doctor Gallup is in a critical moment in this campaign and just when it is likely to do Mr. Willkie the most harm with both campaign contributors and sheeplike handwagon riders, reports 42 states, 499 electoral votes.

It is free to say without charge of bias and on the basis of my four years consistent fight against this sort of stuff that it is as dangerous and misleading—if not vicious—as the Literary Digest poll in 1936.

There is a survey in this country based on a different method than Doctor Gallup's more-and-more routine "sampling." It is called the Dunn survey. It has been conducted for years by a scholarly retiring sort of fellow rather than a publicity agent. It is not a poll taken by part-time agents on a theoretically selected sampling and sometimes by tricky leading questions. It is scientific analysis of several factors. He has not attempted to com-

Elliott's Army Job Is Cause Of Criticism

Incident Should Not Be Made Political Subject, Lawrence Says

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Thus far most of the mudslinging in the campaign has come from the New Deal side, hence those who would prefer to see the Republican maintain a clean slate are hoping that a political campaign will not be made out of the incident in which Elliott Roosevelt was made a captain in the procurement division of the army in corps.

In the first place, Lawrence says, Elliott Roosevelt was the candidate for reelection and not his son and there isn't a single scintilla of evidence to show that Elliott Roosevelt ever consulted his father before he accepted the captaincy. Indeed there is every reason to believe the president would have counseled against it if he had been consulted.

For many months Elliott Roosevelt has been making speeches on the air criticizing severely some aspects of his father's administration and it has been apparent to observers here that the young man was quite independent in his views and never consulted the White House though the constant repetition of Elliott's remarks constituted no small amount of embarrassment to the president.

If Elliott had enlisted as a private he had earned political pull to get himself promoted anyway and it is an open secret that many young men who have had little training in the army will become commissioned because they once enrolled in the reserves. Had the president's son taken his turn in the enlistment rolls he could have achieved the same end but he evidently believed he had the capacity to serve as an officer and saw no objection to being commissioned because he had not actually been drafted and there was no certainty that he would.

Deferred Status. It is also argued that even if drafted Elliott Roosevelt could have asked for a deferred status anyway and judging by the informal report is to how the rules are to be interpreted, it probably would have been easier for Elliott to have waited till after election and taken his chances on achieving a deferred status. All this merely lends weight to the view that he gave up his business and volunteered as an act of patriotism, for which he does not deserve the criticism that has been visited upon him. As a matter of fact, the draft in the past brought hundreds of requests for commissions in the army and navy for young men who volunteered ahead of time so as to get such an advanced status. Unquestionably political pull played its part in commissioning a small minority of boys in the last war and it probably will happen again.

In a sense, the Elliott Roosevelt incident may serve to focus attention on the injury to public morale which comes when insiders get preference as between swivel-chair jobs and service in the field. Because of the public reaction to Elliott Roosevelt's experience, it is probable that many a senator and representative may hesitate now to ask the war department for preference for the sons of prominent constituents. Likewise, it may be that the same prominent constituents

Registrations Open

There is room for more registration in the business English class under the adult program at the Appleton Vocational school, Mrs. Bertha Barry, head of the commercial department, reported today. The class will meet from 7:15 to 9 o'clock on Tuesday and Friday evenings. Registrations in book-keeping, shorthand, and typing are the heaviest in the school's history, Mrs. Barry reported.

Crow Addresses Club

Attorney William L. Crow was the speaker at the noon meeting of the Appleton Exchange club yesterday in the Conway hotel. He talked on "The Meaning of Words," explaining the derivation of familiar words used in conversation.

The game of billiards is believed to have been introduced into France during the reign of Louis XIV.

Record Number Enrol in Adult Evening School

Over 500 Register During Opening Classes at Menasha

Menasha—Menasha adult vocational night school opened Monday night with a record enrolment for the first night, according to S. E. Crockett, director. Over 500 already have registered while many more expect to register later and have requested that places be held for them in classes. Because the enrolment was so large in some classes last night, many people did not wait to enrol but plan to return Thursday.

Homemaking drew the largest number of students, 209. Other enrolments included women's physical education 63, fireman's training 47, beginning typing 37, wood work 28, printing 30, men's physical education 24, drafting 12, machine shop 13, business English 20, arts and crafts 9, advanced typing 22, bookkeeping 16, advanced shorthand 20, complemetry and dictaphone 8, and foundry 23.

Miscellaneous enrolments not listed above include dramatics, commercial law, public speaking, and lip reading. If an enrolment of 12 is reached in these classes by the end of the week, the classes will be organized.

Two new courses will be offered in the homemaking department of the school from 7 o'clock to 9 o'clock Tuesday nights, according to Mr. Crockett. Interior decorating is being taught by Mrs. Gertrude Fentner. The course includes principles of design used in home decorating and the selection of furnishings and accessories for the home.

A course in consumer education also is being offered Tuesday nights. This includes lessons on buying problems and the selection of materials for clothes. Miss Anna Helms is conducting the class. The course in consumer education and interior decorating will be offered for a period of 10 weeks, one lesson each week for each course, starting tonight.

Adults may register for these classes and other homemaking classes in the homemaking department of the school tonight as well as Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week. The foundry class, in which 23 persons enrolled last night, also will be taught Tuesday night.

The course in traffic management and transportation will start Wednesday night. The first class in electrical engineering will be offered Thursday night, Oct. 17.

Even Pegler Thought F.D.R. Was Going to Fix Things Up

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York—My own political childhood ended and adolescence set in about 1932 when I voted for Franklin D. Roosevelt and the repeal of prohibition. The economic crackup, which began in 1929, did not then seem to me to be anything worse than a few caulked fenders and a smashed windshield. I was still thinking of the crash as a just come-uppance for a lot of swindlers in the banking and promotion rackets and a mishap to many comparatively petty gamblers who were nicking down dinky side bets in the market. Many of these had run up an original tow of $100 or $500 to $100,000 or half a million in paper profits; and it was too bad for them but, after all, no worse than they had a right to expect, because, in gambling, if you don't know when to take down you are sure to be knocked into the creek eventually. They were just back where they started.

I had seen a lot of country-club bankers and corporation boosters around the ringside at the big fights and following the golf tournaments and sometimes had wondered when they ever found time to put in any licks at the mysterious business which was yielding them such great wealth. They were an excited, money-proud lot—most of them rather young, too—and they had bars in their homes and offices and vaults full of liquor which ran up to $90 a case for scotch and $125 for champagne. It just didn't seem sound to me that men with responsibility for the affairs of companies in which the people were investing their money should have saloons in their offices. In some laws to prevent the recurrence of any such fabulous nonsense, send a lot of gyps to prison, particularly lawyers who had devised the clever little schemes, and start over. And, of course, prohibition was to be repealed so that the government could get out of the nasty business of poisoning the hooch and frisking people's homes and a man could rub his vest buttons against a bar again and be a man. And the billion dollars a year which we would get out of the liquor taxes and the additional taxes which the states, counties and towns would take from the dealers and saloons would solve everything, and we would all go back to work again.

I was that dumb.

I even thought, in a vague way, that he would juice up the engine so as to save gas and get more speed out of her and maybe streamline the body. Anyway, I was for him and voted for him, and I had a lump in my neck the size of an egg the day he stood on the county-fair scaffold in front of the capitol in Washington and said the only thing we had to fear was fear.

"There," I thought, "is my president. Ain't he something?" I am a little reticent about such emotions in print, so I guess I didn't write it, but I thought it. I felt it.

Washington Soon Was Full of Study-Mugs

I didn't cover the banking inquiry in Washington, but I did follow the story, and nobody took more pleasure from the spectacle of those crooks getting their lumps from Ford Peckora. But I still didn't realize what the boys in the administration were up to, and I doubt that many Americans did, or do yet. The town was full of strangers which, of course, was natural, because the Democrats were closing in for the jobs and the Republicans were thumbing it out of town by every road. But a lot of these strangers were not merely strange but politically queer, and there were so many rumpled-haired, tweedy-looking study-mugs and rather sallow, flat-cheeked females among them talking ideology stuff that I began to wonder, "What is this, anyway—a government or college?" One of the male double-dames who has since become a very big man in the New Deal once explained to me that economics was very much a matter of psychology, and I asked him why they didn't get an alienist for his job, but he just thought I was being flippant. I guess I was, at that.

Well, what I thought was that they were going to junk and salvage the busted banks and companies, pass

Gives History Of Rotary Club

Power Is Speaker at Meeting of Service Group at Clintonville

Clintonville—Harley J. Powell, superintendent of schools in this city, gave a talk on "The History and Benefits of Rotary" when two new members, C. F. Fredericks and George Nuske, were formally received into the Clintonville club Monday noon at the Hotel Marion. Mr. Powell traced the growth of the Rotary movement since 1905 when it was started in Chicago by Charles Harris, a businessman. The meetings rotated between the various places of business of the members, hence the name "Rotary club." There are now approximately 5,000 clubs throughout the world, all of which have "service" for their aim and ideal. Mr. Powell pointed out how the idea of service could be applied to world affairs today. He also explained that Rotary clubs are not allowed to function in the European countries dominated by the Hitler regime.

Guests at the club's noon luncheon were Anne Kukuk of Shawano, Donald De Witt of Oconto, and William Kinkade of Neenah.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Rosers of Oshkosh were dinner guests Sunday at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. C. B. Stanley.

Mrs. Ella Genskow and son Roland of this city, accompanied by the former's sister-in-law, Miss Lillian Genskow of Marion, spent the weekend at Rochester, Minn., with Miss Gertrude Genskow, a student nurse at the Mayo hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Burton and children Barbara and Gerald have moved to Oshkosh, where the former is employed.

Glenn Krause, Jack Meyer and Robert La Violette, freshmen at the University of Wisconsin, and the former's aunt, Miss Amanda Kluth, who teaches at Madison, spent the weekend at their homes in this city.

Mrs. Paul Rosinski, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fumelle and children were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ruppenthal and family at Tigerton.

Mrs. Arthur Campbell was hostess to her bridge club at its first meeting of the season Monday afternoon. Two tables of contract were played, prizes going to Mrs. A. V. Chamberlain, Mrs. Clarence Barker, and Mrs. Harry Lane.

Berger Schmidt, 19, of Marion underwent a mastoid operation Friday.

and Mrs. Leslie Pease of Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. George Sherman of Neenah, Mr. and Mrs. Auler of Oshkosh, and Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Lindsay of Shawano. The six couples are active in affairs of the White Shrine. The honored couple was presented with a gift of silverware.

The Berndts have two sons, George, Jr., who recently went to Glendale, Calif., where he has a position, and Lester, who is employed at Shawano. Their marriage took place Oct. 6, 1915, in North Dakota, former home of Mrs. Berndt. Two years later they moved to Clintonville, where they have since resided.

Pair Honored on 25th Anniversary

Clintonville—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Berndt, 21 North street, Clintonville, entertained them at a 6:30 dinner Saturday evening at Hotel Dobbin, Wausau, in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Schaefer and Mr.

MovieLand Its People and Products

By Jimmie Fidler

New York—Dear Staff: Funny where you learn things: I paused in a drug store this aye for a quick cup of java, and the soda clerk caught my act at The State (last spring) recognized my phiz and introduced himself. Then he gave me an idea:

"Big trouble with the picture business," he said, "is that the customer has no come-again enticement. I mean today he sees a good movie and is no sign he'll see another good one tomorrow."

That's what I call a perfect diagnosis of the hit-or-miss gamble a patron takes when he goes to the movies. Maybe he's going to get entertained; maybe he's going to get six reels of monotony.

Thus does the film industry differ from other business. If a customer buys a soup or tooth paste he likes, he knows when he pays for another can or tube that he'll get precisely the same good article. Therefore he buys with assurance and without hesitation.

Of course, a few names in Hollywood are pretty fair guarantees of good entertainment. Deanna Durbin, with eight successive hits, is on Mickey Rooney, Spencer Tracy, Bette Davis, Judy Garland and Bob Hope are a few more consistent clickers. A handful of directors led by De Mille, Capra, John Ford, Lubitsch and Henry Kostar are also pretty good assurances that their names on marquee mean good fun inside.

It's too bad one smart theater owner in the city can't make it a business to buy only the best pictures, even if he has to pay premiums and even if he has to pay for poor films and at the Clintonville Community hospital.

Also a patient there is Leonard Brandt, 30, of Caroline, who submitted to an appendectomy Friday.

Mrs. Joseph Dahm entertained the Neighborhood club Monday evening at her home on S. Main street. Two tables of five hundred were followed by the serving of a lunch.

The circulation department of the Appleton Post-Crescent is represented in Clintonville by James Blair, 40 Main street. Orders for subscriptions may be left with him. Subscribers missed by carrier should call Mr. Blair telephone 5571 before 4 p. m.

Fish and Game Club Profit on Party Is $303

Fund Will be Used For Conservation in New London District

New London—A net profit of $303 was realized by the New London Fish and Game club from the Sportsman's party held Sept. 23 at Washington High school. It was reported by officers at the regular meeting of the club last night. The sum will be used for conservation work in this area.

A report also was made on the posting of approximately 2,000 acres of land in accordance with an agreement made with surrounding farmers. The plan is to allow only responsible club members in good standing to hunt on the posted property. A committee named to formulate a set of rules and regulations under which the plan will operate includes Charles Nicholas, Harry Young, Carl Fellenz, Marvin Edmister, and the directors of the club.

E. M. Donner and William M. Knapstein reported on their recent 1-week hunting trip to South Dakota and said they returned with 50 pheasants and 40 ducks between them.

The program and lunch committee appointed for November and December is Marvin Edmister, Charles Nicholas and Harry Young.

Gifts for attendance at the meeting last night were given to Walter Brandow, Jr., William Karuhn, Donald Decker, William Knapstein, Frank Schumacher, Richard Brown, Scott Hazelberg, Charles Nicholas, Earl Bringer, Ervin Buelow, M. J. Heinz and Vernon Bruce.

Hanson Is Delegate To Teachers Conclave
New London—Earl Hanson, principal of McKinley school, was elected New London's delegate to the annual convention of the Wisconsin Education association at Milwaukee Nov. 7 to 9 at a meeting of the New London Teachers' association Monday afternoon.

The teachers also voted unanimously to join both the Wisconsin and National Education associations with 100 per cent membership.

A program committee named to outline monthly topics of discussion for the year consists of Superintendent H. H. Helms, Miss Kathryn Wilson and A. F. Christ. Miss Iris Dean and A. A. Vorba were named to a flower committee.

Warner Chairman For Farmer Party

New London—Complete committees for the seventeenth annual Farmers' party given by the New London Rotary club were announced this week by president A. L. Severance with L. M. Warner again as general chairman. The party will be given as usual at Washington High school on the evening of Monday, Nov. 4. Chairmen of the various committees met last night to begin work on the details of the huge event.

The work is apportioned as follows: Program, O. W. Capener, chairman, F. L. Zaig, F. J. Pfeifer; refreshment, the Rev. H. P. Rekdast, chairman, Earl McPeak, R. M. Shortell; invitations, H. B. Christy, chairman, Matt Knapstein, Ben Hartquist; reception, Henry Spearbraker, chairman, Frank Murphy, the Rev. F. S. Dayton; check room, Leonard Learman, chairman, P. J. Dernbach, Fay R. Smith, Fred Rogers, ushers, A. L. Severance, chairman, R. J. Mevender, Henry Hamilton; finance, Thomas F. Fitzgerald, chairman, Harold Zaig, Albert Zerrner.

School Is Closed for Bishop's Anniversary

New London—The Most Precious Blood parochial school was closed here today, giving pupils a 1-day holiday in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Most Rev. Paul Peter Rhode as bishop of the Green Bay diocese. The Rev. R. J. Fox, pastor, and the Rev. Richard Keller, assistant, joined with other priests of the diocese in attending a silver anniversary mass at Green Bay at 10 o'clock this morning.

Speaking Roles Are Filled for School Operetta

Lincoln Grade Pupils To Stage 'Lazy Town' At Auditorium Oct. 18

New London—Speaking roles for 18 characters have been cast as the Lincoln school operetta "Lazy Town," enters the last two weeks of rehearsals before presentation at Washington High school auditorium on Friday evening, Oct. 18.

Mothers have begun work on the detailed costumes which approximately 200 children will wear. As a departure from previous practice, the upper and lower grades will combine this year to produce one big operetta instead of two separate ones.

Miss Dorothy Wallace, director of vocal music in all the public schools, is in charge of musical numbers and choruses while various grade teachers direct the action.

Joyce Miller will have a leading role as Meena Roozee, the little girl whose birthday celebration is a feature of the story. Mama Roozee will be played by Margaret Finger and Peter Roozee, a paper boy, will be portrayed by Carlton Rodgers.

Meena's playmates will be Mary Jane Callahan as Mary Jane and Phyllis Miller as June. Peter's paper selling partners will be Jack Joubert as Slim and Bruce Lercher as Patch.

Others in Cast
Other children are Snitz, little but noisy, played by Kathleen Hass; Baby Doll, played by Judith Duder; Tubby, who can never get enough to eat, by John Ehrenreich.

Four Dutch women will be Marilyn Stewart as Lotchen, Donita Rae DeGroff as Gretchen, Alice Christy as Tina, and Velma Behn as Lena. Betty Fitzgerald will be the Witch of Good Luck. Nellie the donkey will be imitated by two boys, Teddy Raschke and Dale Dean.

The role of Papa Roozee, who makes his appearance only near the end of the play, will be taken by Billy Morien.

In addition there will be scores of gaily costumed children appearing in seven dancing groups and six choruses, with 20 musical numbers in all.

Army Man Visits His Parents Over Weekend

New London—Private Harold Bermann of Fort Sheridan, Ill., spent the weekend on leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Bermann.

Robert Beaudoin, a C. C. C. enrollee at Camp Ellsworth, Ellsworth, Wis., arrived Saturday to spend a 9-day leave at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beaudoin.

The Misses Ellen Platte and Albertine Beaudoin, students in business college at Milwaukee, spent the weekend here at the home of their parents.

New London Future Farmer Ranks High In Judging Contest

New London—Donald Crain, a member of the New London Future Farmer crops judging team, ranked among the 10 highest in his field at the state judging contests at Madison Friday. Three New London teams earned recognition. A total of 2,600 boys from 220 schools participated in the contests.

Only the upper 30 per cent of the contestants were awarded recognition and those were classified into three groups. The three New London teams placed in the second group.

The teams were: Crops, Arthur Rolfs, Donald Crain, James Cuff; fat stock, Arnold Ticks, Leon Graupman, Kenneth Grawvunder; potatoes, Charles Larsen, Bernard Redman, Eldor Gruetzmacher.

Firemen Launch Prevention Drive

New London—The New London Fire department began a week's fire prevention program with the annual inspection of hydrants at its regular meeting last night. All hydrants in the city were checked and greased for quick and easy operation.

In observance of Fire Prevention week Oct. 6 to 12, the fire whistle was blown at noon yesterday and will be blown each noon during the week as a reminder to the public.

Home fire inspection blanks will be distributed Thursday by Fire Chief Dan Rex to all grade and high school children in the city. The blanks must be filled out at home and returned to the schools where they will be collected and then submitted to government agencies at Madison for study.

The annual inspection of business buildings for fire hazards was begun by Chief Rex several weeks ago and will be completed this week.

Jeanne Fox Is New Editor of Annual

New London—The editorial staff for the 1941 Classmate, annual yearbook of New London High school, has been announced by Miss Dorothy Johnson, faculty adviser. Work will begin at once.

Jeanne Fox is editor-in-chief with Eva Mae Schmidt as assistant. Howard Mannchen and Lois Steingraber are business managers.

Philgas

BOTTLED NATURAL GAS

Fast, Clean, Economical Cooking FOR HOMES BEYOND GAS MAINS

With Philgas (bottled natural gas) you just turn the valve and start cooking! Top-burners light automatically—full heat, instantly! No fires to build, no wicks, no smelly oil, no soot, no ashes, no waiting on slow-heating elements. . . . Philgas is a naturally pure fuel. It burns with an absolutely clean, blue flame. No sooty pots and pans, no smoky walls and dirty curtains. Philgas saves you time, work and money which formerly went for excessive cleaning and redecorating. . . . But that's not all! Average Philgas cooking costs are only 1/2c per meal per person! . . . The highly-efficient Philgas burners will be just as efficient twenty years from now. No heating elements to burn out or need replacements, no wicks to buy. With a modern Philgas range you get (1) low first-cost (2) low operating costs and (3) freedom from costly repairs and upkeep.

Out west in the cattle country, the cowboys are rounding up cattle at this time of year. Here in Wisconsin, we're having a Fall Round-up of Old Stoves! During this big sale, we will allow up to $20 for your present cooking appliance on the purchase of anyone of the three super-value Philgas ranges shown on this page. Limited Time! Act now!

A SUPER-VALUE FALL BARGAIN

Philgas Model 1140-S (shown above) is just as modern and just as complete as its sleek, trim appearance would indicate. It is an exceptional value at its regular price, but during our Fall Sale it's a real super-value! (1) Flush-to-wall design. One piece top and back-guard. Lamp, timer, and condiment set. (2) Four black porcelain-enamel top-burners—three standard and one giant, all with simmer valves for modern 'waterless' cooking. Automatic top-burner lighting, both sides. Work space between burners. Two porcelain-enamel top-burner covers. (3) Full-size, insulated, high-speed, low-temperature oven with double Tuf-flex glass window. Electric lamp inside oven with exterior switch. Automatic oven heat control. (4) Drawer-type smokeless broiler. Porcelain enameled pan, cast aluminum grid. (5) Two large utensil drawers. (6) White porcelain-enamel finish except white synthetic body sides and black base. (7) Cast aluminum griddle included.

Philgas (Real Gas) In Easy-to-Carry Cylinders

Philgas is real gas—bottled natural gas—and you use it as you would use gas in the city. Outside your home is the simple automatic Philgas installation shown at the left—one cylinder in use and one cylinder in reserve—your own individual "gas well" which is not affected by windstorms, sleet, snow or other whims of nature. An almost human "robot" automatically switches the supply from an empty cylinder to a full one, giving you an uninterrupted gas supply. One cylinder supplies the cooking needs of the average 4-person family for 21 days! There are no large sums of money to pay out to replenish your reserve gas supply. Just bring your empty Philgas cylinder to our store and exchange it for a full one—for only $1.35!

Philgas is a product of the Phillips Petroleum Company, one of the nation's largest oil companies, and the world's largest marketer of liquefied petroleum gases—your assurance of a dependable source of supply.

Roosevelt Jr. High School In Double Win

Cardinals Down
Wilson While Grays
Turn Back McKinley

Lightweight and heavyweight Roosevelt Junior High school 6-man football teams downed Wilson and McKinley squads in initial games Saturday.

In the lightweight division, Roosevelt Cardinals were sparked by Dickinson to a 26 to 13 win over Wilson Oranges. Wilson held a 13 to 0 advantage at the end of the first quarter with Niles and Holcomb each scoring a touchdown and the former running for an extra point. Dickinson broke the ice for Roosevelt with a marker in the second quarter. Caramenas added another for Roosevelt in the third quarter to narrow the Wilson lead to 13-12. In the final period, Dickinson again scored and a pass to Ruth made it 19 to 13. At the final gun, Dickinson threw a sleeper pass to Fisher for a 26 to 13 triumph.

Scoring 14 points in the first quarter, the Roosevelt heavyweight Grays downed McKinley by a 22 to 26 margin. Belling counted the first marker on a line smash. Wichman scored on an end run and Walters made two points on a drop-kick. Williams recovered a fumble for 6 more Roosevelt points in the third quarter and Roosevelt added 12 points in the fourth when Wichman ran 40 yards and crossed the goal line again on an intercepted pass.

McKinley scored in the first second and fourth quarters on passes to Meier and on Sturms' end run near the close of the battle.

In the other game, Wilson lightweight defeated McKinley at Wilson school, 56 to 6.

Neenah Meets Bulldogs Next

Sees Comeback in Conference Battle
With New London

Neenah—The Neenah High school football squad began preparations Monday afternoon for a comeback for the Northwestern Wisconsin conference, for the Red Rockets will tangle with New London at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the athletic field.

The Neenah eleven suffered a humiliating rout from the championship bound Kaukauna outfit which felled over Neenah, 41 to 6. It was the Ghosts' seventeenth straight conference victory and third this season. The powerful Kaws, sparked by Carl Giordana, halfback, are headed for their third straight title.

There are bright prospects for a nip and tuck battle when the Rockets and the Bulldogs clash for apparently both squads are evenly matched. Both teams have defeated Clintonville by almost identical scores, Neenah winning by 13 to 6 and New London, 12 to 6. New London last Friday night lost to Menasha St. Mary, 12 to 7, while Neenah has lost to Milwaukee Country Day, 13 to 7.

It will be Neenah's second home game, and the Rockets will be favored slightly, primarily because of the stingy defeat they received from Kaukauna. The Neenah eleven will be primed to move into the win column.

Neenah's second team scrimmaged against the Appleton High school second squad here yesterday afternoon.

Arturo Godoy Winner In First Comeback Go

Philadelphia — (U)—Rugged Arturo Godoy is safely past the first obstacle on the comeback trail that he hopes will lead to a third meeting with heavyweight champion Joe Louis.

The 202-pound senior from Chile making his first ring appearance since Louis stopped him in June took a unanimous 10-round decision last night from Philadelphia's Gus Dorazio in a slow fight.

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL IN DEBUT—Six-man football, started at the junior high schools this fall as a part of the physical education program, got underway last Saturday morning with games at Wilson, Roosevelt and McKinley school gridirons. The schools compete on the basis of weight teams. In the picture at the top, Billy Schuh of Wilson is shown carrying the ball against the McKinley lightweight in a game which Wilson won, 56 to 6. In the picture just above, Jerry Niles, Wilson lightweight, is finding himself stopped by Joe Fisher of Roosevelt. Roosevelt won, 26 to 13. (Post-Crescent Photos.)

George Schuessler drilled a 222 game and William Hobbs totaled 589 to share individual honors during Knights of Columbus American League matches at Elks alleys last night. Top team totals were turned in by Sunnicht Grocers with a 934 game and 2,716 series.

Sunnicht Grocers made it three straight over Balliet Supply company to keep their state clean. Schmidt Clothiers were the only other keggers to score a 3-game win last night, taking the measure of Wisconsin Telephone company.

Among top scorers were the Rev. Mr. Haessly 205, J. Tietz 205, F. Kamps 200, Jack Mueller 212.

Marquette Goes Back to Work; Iowa State Next

Milwaukee — (U)—Marquette footballers went right back to work yesterday in an effort to iron out weaknesses shown in the Wisconsin game last Saturday.

Coch Paddy Driscoll ordered a defensive scrimmage against the freshmen, and put Steve Selskowski in the first string fullback job as a reward for his all-around play against the Badgers.

Members of the coaching staff took turns explaining Saturday's costly mistakes, then with orders to correct them, the Hilltoppers began preparations for Friday night's clash against Iowa State.

Ames, Iowa — (U)—Seeking to revive the cyclone scoring punch through mixtures of forwards, laterals and running plays, Coach Jim Yeager drilled his Iowa State varsity of offense yesterday.

Commenting on the 7-0 victory over Kansas, Yeager predicted that "if we play against Marquette like we played against Kansas Saturday, we'll lose by three touchdowns."

He looks upon the Friday night tussle at Milwaukee as one of the hardest games on the season's schedule.

Coe Dominates Midwest Circuit With Three Wins

Idle This Week; Vikes
Invade Carleton for Homecoming Struggle

MIDWEST CONFERENCE

| Lawrence | 0  | 2  | 0  | 3    | 29  |
| Ripon    | 0  | 2  | 0  | 0    | 13  |

LAST WEEK'S SCORES

Coe 19, Beloit 6.
Carleton 7, Monmouth 7.
Cornell 6, Ripon 0.
Knox 16, Lawrence 3.
Drake 20, Grinnell 7.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES

Friday Night:
Cornell at Beloit.

Saturday:
Lawrence at Carleton.
Grinnell at Knox.
Ripon at Monmouth.

Coe still stands at the top of the Midwest Conference football race following its 19 to 0 victory over previously unbeaten Beloit last Saturday. And the Kohawks will continue to dominate for at least another week inasmuch as they are idle until Oct. 19 when they meet their traditional rival, Cornell.

Three others, Cornell, Knox and Grinnell, have unblemished records but have been in but one game as compared to Coe's three. The Siwash looked powerful in beating Lawrence by a score of 16 to 3. Lawrence scored its three points on a drop kick from the 41 yard line by Bob Osen, the first time a Lawrence man has even tried such a thing since 1922.

Torquist Looks Good

Cornell got away to a good start when it scored a close victory over co-champion Ripon. Gene Torquist, continuing from where he left off last season, Grinnell did not see conference action last week but will see plenty on Saturday when they invade Galesburg for the feature game of the week against Knox. The surprise of all was the holding of the highly regarded Carleton team to a 7 to 7 tie by the twice-beaten Monmouth. Off to a bad start, the Scots have apparently profited by their earlier tough opposition.

This week's program opens at Hancock Field on Friday night when Beloit entertains Cornell in what looks like a toss-up. The Gold showed power, 33 points worth, in tripping Monmouth two weeks ago, but will meet perhaps the toughest line in the conference in Dick Barker's boys. Lawrence must start from scratch again after losing to Knox and this week's picture is anything but encouraging. It travels to Carleton for the first of four homecomings. Added to that they have beaten the Carls the last two times. Carleton also feels none too good about its half a loss in the opener with Monmouth last week.

The fourth game of the week throws Ripon and Monmouth together on the latter's field, the loser to be definitely out of the running. With the Scots getting stronger and Ripon about due, there are no predictions on this one.

Colonels Get Back in Little World Series

Newark, N. J. — (U)—The surprising Louisville Colonels were back in the thick of the fight with the Newark Bears for the little world series baseball championship today, thanks to Cecil (Tex) Hughson, smooth-pitching right-hander.

Hughson, property of the Boston Red Sox, virtually tied the International league in knots last night as he hurled the American association team to a 6 to 2 victory — its second in the five games played of the best-of-seven series. It was Hughson who gained credit for the Colonels' first win.

After the defeat the Bears were no better than even money to end the classic tonight, for Manager Bill Burrell of the Colonels is sending Charley Wagner, chunky right-hander, to the mound. Wagner will carry a record of 12 straight wins into the fray.

Opposing Wagner will be Steve Peek, right-hand knuckle-ball, who was driven from the mound in the third game at Louisville.

Reserves Shifted By Badger Coach

Madison — (U)—Three reserve backs on the Wisconsin football squad will be shifted to bolster the secondary strength, Coach Harry A. Stuhldreher announced today.

Jim McFadden, sophomore fullback, will be shifted to right half where replacements are few. Leonard Calligaro, who has experienced some difficulty running from the right half position, will be moved to fullback to aid George Paskvan. Calligaro is a rugged youth who should fill the post satisfactorily, Stuhldreher said.

Ted Damos, right halfback, will be tried at left half, at least until the return of injured Leonard Seelinger, who alternated with Hadley Hoskins at that post during pre-season practice.

No body contact work is contemplated for the first string this week, but the reserves may be put through blocking and tackling drills. The Badgers will meet Iowa at Iowa City Saturday in the Western conference opener for both teams.

Chaff'n Chatter

By Gordon H. McIntyre

Last week we announced that hereafter the football guessing contests would be operated on the basis of the greatest number of winning teams picked and that in cases of ties we would give one point for each correct score for any team.

As a result we had an increase in the number of persons picking teams and undoubtedly the interest will go higher as the word gets around. It's much easier, we must admit, but it also demands closer scrutiny on our part and perhaps we'll have our neck out before we get through.

Here are the winners:

Appleton: Paul Vandenberg, 542 N. Drew street, showed he's a close follower of games by picking 17 out of the possible 20 winners. He missed on Appleton-Central, West-Fondy and Cardinals-Detroit. What's more he picked one score on the head, Cornell over Ripon, 6 to 0.

New London: Red Watkins, Box 658, is the winner with 14 winners of the 20.

Marion—H. G. Meyer was the only entrant and picked 14.

Clintonville—Willard Wolf crashed through with 14.

Menasha—Bud Gerbel, 804 Manitowoc street, won after tying with two or three other persons. They all picked 15 winning teams but Gerbel gets six points on correct scores for six teams.

Neenah—John C. Hilton picked 16 winners and nosed out two other persons.

Kimberly—J. Mennen, Jr., was the prize picker at the village with 15 teams.

Kaukauna—Merritt Kavanaugh, route 3, crashed through with 16 teams, picked Green Bay East over Manitowoc on the head and missed on Minnesota over Nebraska by a point. He also had enough other points to beat Joe Gertz who also had 16 winners.

Little Chute—That Jerry Lamers guy has a mortgage on honors at the village. He won again with 16 teams.

And that's that. Remember, we're basing the contest on the number of winning teams you select each week. In the event of a tie we'll give one point for each correct score for any one team.

The list for the next week is below and it's tougher because we can't give you a bunch of setups.

Nothing Interests Kaukauna Except That Shawano Game

Kaukauna — The preliminaries have now been disposed of and at 8 o'clock Friday night it's Kaukauna versus Shawano with the winner favored to walk into the 1940 Northwestern conference championship.

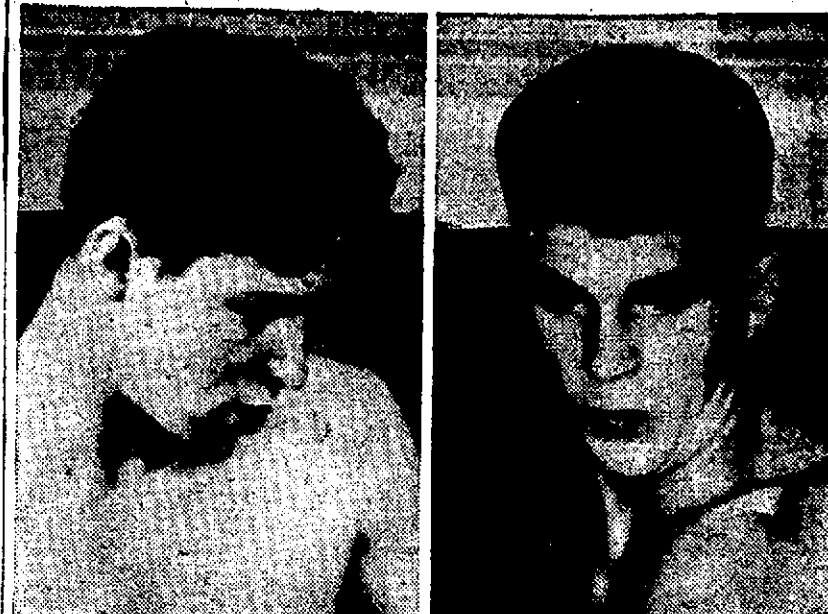

Against a Neenah eleven which proved to be surprisingly weak, the Kaws ran up a 41 to 6 total Saturday while Shawano was drubbing Menasha, 19 to 0. Kaukauna has a three and nothing record, with the Indians possessing a two and nothing rating.

In three games the Kaws have scored 91 points to opponents' 6. In two games the Indians have scored 50 points to opponents' 6. Kaukauna beat West DePere, 25 to 0, Menasha 25 to 0 and Neenah, Shawano defeated DePere by the same margin, 31 to 8, and Menasha.

All Kaukauna's players came through the Neenah game in good shape and will be available Friday night, Coach Paul E. Little said yesterday. Little praised the work of John Rieth, substitute junior halfback whose performance against Neenah included a long run for a touchdown.

The visiting Indian eleven is stronger than the team Kaukauna edged out last fall at Shawano, 13 to 9. Only one man has been lost to Coach Cliff Dilts, who apparently is confident his charges will win. While scouting the Menasha game here he remarked the Kaws had a horseshoe in their pockets the last two years and will need a couple of them against Shawano just to hold the score down.

A real addition of strength to the visitors has been the fullback play of Gauthier. Not since the days of John Reed, who in 1937 led Shawano to its last win over Kaukauna, 14 to 0 decision, have the Indians

Good Supporting Battles for Mensha's First Pro Fight Card

Menasha — The first professional boxing show of the season will be sponsored at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at S. A. Cook armory by the Menasha Elks lodge. Thirty rounds of fighting are scheduled with Frankie Gaudes, Milwaukee, and Billy Miller, Chicago, headlining the card in an 8 round contest at 130 pounds.

Gaudes has been drilling with Indian Billy Lee at the Milwaukee A. C. gymnasium and also went two rounds with Red LaVass who arrived from Bay City for his first day's workout under the management of Pete Bass. Lee finished up his training with two rounds against Annunzio Ferrera.

Six of the boxers who will appear on the card Wednesday night are training at Milwaukee. Indian Billy Lee will meet Emmett Weller, St. Paul, in the semifinal. The bout will go six rounds at 150 pounds. Two former golden gloves champions are training at the Eagles club gymnasium in Milwaukee where Richie Mitchell is the athletic director. They are Matt Holmich, a lightweight, and Johnny Roszina, a welterweight. Mitchell will meet Red LaVass in a four round opener while Roszina will oppose Norb Geraden, Green Bay, in a four round contest.

Archie LeMay, Neenah, will make his first professional start on the card. He has spent several days training in St. Paul, boxing with Emmett Weller. LeMay says that he is in the best shape of his career and promises his opponent, Billy Pierce, a real battle. Pierce is training at the West Allis recreational department gymnasium and boxed his brother Jimmy, a welterweight, and also went two rounds with Tony Cianciola, Wisconsin state middleweight champion who is gunning for a shot at Tony Zale, world champion.

Wilber Van, Green Bay, will box Dick Lancelotti, St. Paul, in another four round contest.

Detroit has shown the lightest defense to date. It has allowed opponents a total of only 24 points in four games.

Jimmy Johnston, Washington halfback, moved into a first place tie with Don Looney, Philadelphia end, in the league scoring.

Each has scored 24 points in the same manner—four touchdowns. Looney got his in the Eagles' first two games and has been held scoreless since.

World Series Reaches Final Contest Today

Reds Expected to Use Derringer but Tigers Have Problem

BY GAYLE TALBOT

Cincinnati — (AP) — Two exhausted teams brought out their last tired pitching resources today for the seventh and deciding struggle of the 1940 world series at Crosley field.

For the Detroit Tigers it promised to be Buck Newsom, whose seemingly bottomless store of heart and strength already had carried him to two victories in the series. If asked by Manager Del Baker to make one more effort, it meant that Newsom was going on the firing line for the second time within 48 hours.

And for the Cincinnati Reds, trying to give the National league its first championship since the St. Louis Cardinals beat Detroit in 1934, it was big Paul Derringer again. Derringer beat the Tigers three days ago in Detroit, so he had one more day's rest than Newsom.

But neither veteran had the rest he needed, and it was an open question whether Newsom, in particular, could sustain for one more nine-inning stretch the fire and stamina he had when he pitched "one more for dad" two days ago.

May Use Bridges

Manager Del Baker of the Tigers had one possible alternative to starting his over-worked ace, and some thought he might take it. He had the even more ancient Tommy Bridges, who pitched and won the third game of the series. Tommy is about a once-a-week hurler these days, but Baker could try him just for size, so to speak, and figure on rushing Newsom in there the moment Bridges showed signs of fraying.

Otherwise the two clubs that have been battling evenly for nearly a week go into the deciding game exactly where they started and with the identical line-ups that opposed each other in the first contest last Wednesday.

Ernie Lombardi, the Reds slugging catcher, still was sitting disconsolately on the bench with a sprained ankle, and his replacement, 40-year-old Jimmy Wilson, was aching in every muscle and joint.

"If I get through this one," said Jim, "I'm hanging up the old glove."

Newsom, if he was Baker's candidate, had a chance today to win his third world series victory and equal a record held by only five other pitchers. The others who captured three games in a world series that did not go over seven games were Christy Mathewson, Jack Coombs, Urban Faber, Babe Adams and Stanley Coveleskie, Clevelander, in 1920, was the last to do it.

A Pitchers' Series

This had been a pitchers' world series from the start. Each of the six winning chucks had gone the route, and not one of them had been seriously extended. Not a game had been really close. When Buckie Walters shut out the Tigers, he was the only pitcher to have followed the general pattern.

Schoolboy Rowe, the second time didn't have a thing on the ball. Where it took the Reds over three innings to knock him from the box in the second game of the series, they disposed of him in the first frame yesterday. Four of the first five Cincinnati batters hit safely, and the other sacrificed, bringing in two runs and giving Walters all the lead he needed. Another fine job of relief pitching by John Gorica of the Tigers was wasted.

And Walters, just to make his day complete, hit a powerful home run over the left field fence in the eighth inning for his team's final score.

Good as was Walters' pitching, his support was even greater. Every time the Tigers looked like making trouble, one or another of the Cincinnati infield came up with a spectacular play to throttle the threat.

Detroit's Al Simmons, who had been batting in the eighth, was hit by a line drive from Walters' bat in the ninth. Simmons was out, and the Reds were in. The Reds' infield, however, is right on the heels of one of the fall classic's most coveted records—that of making the most twin-killing in a series. They have nine to their credit and they need one today to tie the mark set in 1924 by the Washington Senators.

It's nice work, this baseball. The two clubs have been at it about two and a half hours a day for six days, but the gate receipts hopped up to $1,101,023.09 yesterday. And those players will split $373,830.56—which isn't bad for about nine hours work, since they share only in receipts from the first four contests.

Unless something happens today to change the scene, it looks as if Bill Werber, Cincinnati's third sacker, will be the series hero, with Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe being the biggest disappointment (more commonly known as the "goat"). Werber, the guy who couldn't hit, is leading both teams with a handsome .435 mark on six singles and four doubles in 23 times at bat. But long, lean, lanky Rowe, who won 16 and lost but 3 in his comeback attempt this year, has been a complete flop against the Reds. He has been in there three and two-thirds innings, and has surrendered 12 hits and seven earned runs.

Outstanding among bowling events for the current season is the $50,000 Red Crown open play bowling carnival, offered to men, women and youthful kleggers throughout the nation. The Appleton Y. M. C. A. alleys already have announced cooperation in the contest. Provisions of the carnival, scores for which will be based on non-league play, make it possible for beginners to share alike with star bowlers in prize opportunity. The meet is divided into eight weekly contests for six classes of competition. There is no entry fee and the first contest begins Oct. 12.

Our contribution percentage for this week is a perk .000 but we did manage to hear that Nick Weber gutted his ball in a beer man for Wisconsin in the Elks Big Ten league. One of his teammates took but seven pins and had already ordered the refreshments when Nick came along with his foul ball.

Because those Elks leagues handicaps are so darn confusing, we sometimes overlook a really good score in reporting on match results and we didn't catch Herb Brock's scratch 257 game and a 626 series.

Edwin Herb warmed up with a 126 and then blasted a 234 game in the newly organized Woolen Mills league at Eagles alleys.

A couple of records were hung up this week when Gmeiner and Greason cut loose with a 3,127 series on games of 989, 1,033 and 1,085 for the highest mark reported so far this season. There was a lot of solid punching in that series for only one of the boys had a 200 game, that being Roy Hauert with an even 200 in his third effort.

Den Huhn established a mark, in his own way, that should stand for some time when he ran into seven, count 'em, straight splits over at Eagles alleys. As far as we're concerned, he can have the honors.

Bits About Bowling

by Dick Davis

One of the most fragile things in the world is a bowling record. It's always being broken. Although the tepid sport already boasts 16,000,000 American exponents, national authorities are predicting bigger and better things this year.

The 16,000,000 bowlers include men, women and children, women making up about one-fifth of the total. Of the total number of men bowlers, 800,000 rolled under the sanction of the American Bowling congress in 1939-40. This figure represents an increase of 100,000 over 1938-39 and a larger ABC membership is predicted for 1940-41.

The Women's International Bowling congress, governing body of the feminine pin spillers, has 80,000 sanctioned league bowlers within its fold and expects to raise its membership again during the current season. Bowling among 'teen-age youngsters has received impetus during the last several years through the organization of high school leagues under faculty supervision.

Elmer H. Baumgarten, ABC secretary, reports that all barometers in his Milwaukee office portend a record bowling year and he predicts that the 1941 ABC international tournament to be held in St. Paul will be one of the outstanding meets in the 41-year history of the congress.

Next week we'll have some local figures that show "bowlin's growin'."

Series Notes

BY FRITZ HOWELL

Cincinnati — (AP) — Bits of baseball banter:

The guy responsible for either Cincinnati or Detroit losing today's grand finale of the world series is likely to be a mute unpopular with his mates. There's about 12,000 difference between the individual shares of the winners and losers, and these athletes think almost as much of money as they do of their base knucks.

The scribes, who like to think of themselves as experts on things baseballish, are getting a kicking around from the Reds and Tigers. Before the series the typewriter pounders declared it was strictly a scrap between Detroit's power, hampered by a shaky infield, and Cincinnati's pitching, aided by a fine fielding inner works but handicapped by lack of hitting.

With the thing practically over, just about the reverse has happened. The Reds have out-hit the Tigers, 51 to 49, while the Tigers have erred but four times to seven for the Redlegs.

The Red infield, however, is right on the heels of one of the fall classic's most coveted records—that of making the most twin-killing in a series. They have nine to their credit and they need one today to tie the mark set in 1924 by the Washington Senators.

Rose Schroeder Tops Kitchen Pin Circuit

Kitchen League

Rose Schroeder battered a 161 game and a 419 series to take individual honors during Kitchen league matches at Elks alleys Monday afternoon. Rolling Pins scored top team totals of 790 and 2,166. Mixers went into a lone league lead with a 3-game win over Beaters.

Team scores:

Rolling Pins (1) 790 716 660-2066
Mangers (1) 587 656 730-1973
Whippers (2) 734 688 723-2145
Mixers (3) 674 726 667-2069
Beaters (0) 650 676 667-1993

Cleveland Next For Green Bay

Packers Will be in Top Condition After Two Weeks' Layoff

Green Bay — After a two-week layoff, the Green Bay Packers Sunday will resume chasing the 1940 pennant of the National Professional league when they bump against the up-and-coming Rams of Cleveland here at City stadium. The kickoff is at 2 p. m. sharp.

The Rams, with a flock of college star "rookies" fortifying an already strong lineup that boasts of the Pro league's leading passer and punter, Parker Hall, and the versatile and smashing fullback, Johnnie Drake, are at least 25 per cent stronger than they were last year, according to E. L. (Curly) Lambeau, boss of the Packers.

Ground Game Better

Scout reports received by Coach Lambeau show that the Rams' ground game is much improved and they have even improved their overhead drive. Then, too, Lambeau has not forgotten last year when, after the Packers walloped the Chicago Cardinals and Bears in the initial league contests, Coach Earl (Dutch) Clark brought his newly formed Cleveland squad to Green Bay and gave the Bays their first licking.

In 1939 the Rams scored one of the outstanding upsets of the season when they whipped the Packers here 27-24. Early in the third quarter, the Bays held a 24-7 lead but the Clevelanders went wild and put across three touchdowns to nose out Lambeau & Co. In the game at Cleveland, the Packers nosed out a 7-6 victory in the last couple of minutes of play, thanks to a touchdown pass grabbed by Joe Laws.

The Rams beat Philadelphia 21-13 to open their National league schedule this fall. Dutch Clark's team was nosed out by Detroit 6-0 and last Sunday held the Chicago Bears to a 21-14 score.

The advance sale of tickets for the Cleveland game is exceptionally good and Packer officials are figuring on a big house as the Rams have developed quite a following in this neck of the woods.

We Always Thought Redskins Were Grid Team, Not Show Prop

BY EDDY GILMORE

Washington — (AP) — It takes 1,001 men and women to stage the professional football extravaganza with which George Preston Marshall dazzles the capital on Sunday afternoons.

Extravaganza is no overstatement when it comes to the Sunday afternoon games and one reason for their color is Mrs. Marshall, the former Corinne Griffith from the land of extravaganza—Hollywood. She directs the entertainment.

The Marshalls aren't content with just a band. They employ a super band of 108 instruments manipulated by musicians draped in costly Indian costumes.

The big band doesn't arrive until 15 minutes before kickoff time and there's nothing that worries the Marshalls so much as a filled stadium with no music.

A junior band of 55 musicians plays until the big band marches in, but wait—there's still another band, an 18 piece swing outfit which gets in the groove when the big band is out of breath.

The swingeous swing out from a caddy painted tepee atop the east stands. When the musicians aren't giving out, the tepee is—with billowing smoke pumped up from the ground in a special stove.

It takes 185 ushers to get the 30,000 thousands—including J. Edgar Hoover and Jesse Jones—into their seats, and ten maids to take care of the ladies in the powder rooms.

One hundred policemen and 24 firemen stand around every game to help with fights and fires, augmented by 50 CCC boys.

Seventy-five youth sell the programs and 100 men ply the paying customers with hot dogs and soft drinks at 10 cents a pop.

Eight entertainers put on tableaux along with three bands at half time. And John J. Esney, general manager of the Redskins, directs the whole business from a dug out. "That one of the 1,001," explained the Redskin president, "is Marshall."

Oh, yes, there's the team, of about 30 men.

Figures Reveal Golden Gophers Are Tough Squad

Franck Has Averaged 7.18 Yards Per Run; Pass Defense Weak

BY TED PETERSON

Minneapolis — (AP) — Coach Bernie Bierman has rehired his Minnesota dynamo for high powered performance once again.

If there are any doubts that the Golden Gophers have plenty of stored up energy to shock remaining opponents on their schedule, let statistics of those first two victories over the Universities of Washington and Nebraska, neither of which was exactly a pushover, do the talking.

The Gopher ball carriers picked up a net rushing yardage of 522 yards, averaging 4.98 yards for each attempt. Washington's and Nebraska's highly touted offenses on the other hand were able to gain only 225 yards on the ground or 3.52 yards a try.

Minnesota's stalwart line, one of the heaviest in the school's history and which may also prove to be one of the most powerful before the season is over, trapped opposing ball carriers behind the line of scrimmage for a total loss of 56 yards in the first two games.

The strength of the Minnesota line was most apparent after Nebraska had tied the game at 7 to 7 last Saturday, in the third quarter. From there on things changed considerably with the fast charging Gopher line tearing the Nebraska offensive to pieces. The result?—Nebraska had a net deficit of nine yards for the last quarter.

Bob Palfra, quarterback, is the leading Gopher ball carrier with an average of 14.67 yards a try, while Bill Daley, a sophomore who has promise of developing into a great fullback as perhaps Bronko Nagurski or Herb Josting of Minnesota fame tore off gains at an average of nine yards a clip.

George Franck, who travels the 100-yard dash in considerably under ten seconds on the cinder path, has an average of 7.18 yards, while Bruce Smith, another half back, boasts an average of 5.43 yards.

Since a chain is no stronger than its weakest link, however, remaining opponents may take heart. The Gophers have permitted their opponents to complete 57 per cent of passes against them so far this season.

So that pass defense is a real big worry for Coach Bierman, what with Ohio State's great pitcher, Don Scott, the next Minnesota obstacle on Oct. 19 at Columbus.

Cleveland Cuts Squad

Cleveland — (AP) — The Cleveland Rams of the National Football league announced yesterday the release of guards Phil Ragazzo, formerly of Western Reserve; Pete Gudauskas, Murray Teachers, and end Mike Kinek, Michigan State. The move cut the squad to 28 players.

Conzelman Asks Waivers

Chicago — (AP) — Coach Jimmy Conzelman of the Chicago Cardinals of the National Professional Football league, announced yesterday he had asked waivers on Bobby Kellogg, halfback from Tulane, and Robert Wood, former Alabama end.

Conzelman also said Bill Dewell, end from Southern Methodist, playing his first year with the Cards, would be out of action for at least six weeks because of a fractured right ankle, suffered in Saturday night's game with the Detroit Lions.

The Zephyrs have scored 145 points in the 15 games while St. John's has counted 121 points. The Chuteers have held the Zephyrs scoreless in four games while St. Mary's has applied the whitewash five times, four times in succession.

The first game in 1937, a non-conference tilt, was a 12-all tie in the conference game that year the Zephyrs won 7 to 6. In 1938 they won two tilts 12 to 0 and 6 to 0.

The Zephyrs have scored 49 points of his team's total of 62, collecting four touchdowns against California and three against Michigan State. He also placekicked seven conversions.

Jim Langhurst of Ohio State is a peer second with 18 points.

Menasha Elks Beat Appleton Pin Team

With E. Zelinski smacking a 246 game and H. Duerrwachter tumbling 610 on games of 202 and 225, Menasha Elks moved out Appleton Elks by a count of 2,695 to 2,689 in a special match at the local Elks alleys Saturday. R. Fahrbach contributed to the Menasha total with singles of 204 and 217. High for the losers was Merle Hopkins with a 213 game and 582 series. A. Gehring adding a 212.

SATURDAY'S GAME

Manitowoc at Appleton.

With 30 points from five touchdowns, Bob Herliche of Green Bay East is leading individual scorer in the Fox River Valley conference football games.

The nearest competitor of Herliche is Bob Williquette of Green Bay West, with 20 points from three touchdowns and two conversions. Third with three touchdowns is Chuck Kliefloth of Appleton.

Green Bay's two high schools currently share point honors. East is best on defense with only six points scored against it, while West is strongest on offense with 54 points.

Fond du Lac has played only one conference game, having whipped West last week, 13 to 7. The Fond du Lac and Green Bay East teams are the only ones that have not tasted defeat.

East will attempt to keep its slate clean in the game at Oshkosh Friday night. Fond du Lac goes to Sheboygan North in another important contest, while West, decidedly on the spot after that defeat, is host to Sheboygan Central. The only game on Saturday finds Manitowoc, victim of East last week, at Appleton.

Local Speakers Available For Meetings Or Public Gatherings Of All Kinds

In order to acquaint the general public with all phases of this important program a Speakers Bureau has been organized. The committee in charge of the general program will endeavor to furnish speakers free of charge to all groups having an attendance of fifty or over. The purpose of the offer is to inform the public in this manner regarding the entire mobilization program for understanding of private enterprise. Already five civic, social and religious groups have taken advantage of this offer and have had a speaker at their meetings. The same opportunity is open to all groups until October 31st.

Progress in the Campaign For Better Understanding of Private Enterprise

Mobilization for understanding of Private Enterprise was conceived and launched over a year ago. The program was used effectively in many cities in the United States and at the suggestion of local industrial leaders the Appleton Chamber of Commerce decided over a month ago to conduct the campaign in Appleton. A committee composed of Jos. J. Plank, John H. Neller, Seymour Gmeiner, F. E. Sensenbrenner, R. H. Purdy and Dr. J. B. MacLaren were appointed to organize and develop a local program. This committee has been at work since September 1st, and have already completed one of the projects. Three other projects are planned as outlined.

ATION FOR UNDERSTANDING PRIVATE ENTERPRISE"

Indispensable Supports of Individual Freedom!

—Program Sponsored Locally—

APPLETON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The perpetuation of the private enterprise system is not merely a matter of selfish interest to business men. Events abroad have shown that the civil and religious liberties of the average citizen and all the processes of representative democracy cannot exist side by side with controlled economy.

When private enterprise is abandoned, as it has been in Germany and Russia, the all-powerful state which develops soon must control everything which influences public opinion if it is to perpetuate its control of the economic system. Business is thankful for the fact that there is a growing realization in the American public's mind that private enterprise must be upheld at all costs if personal freedom and job security is to be preserved.

Recognizing the threat to our national welfare that rests in wide-spread misconceptions about the American system of private enterprise the National Association of Manufacturers have instituted an educational program directed toward a "mobilization for understanding of private enterprise."

In the knowledge that private enterprise can be maintained and improved only as it is thoroughly understood, each community, through a cooperative, localized program is asked to put forth the proper effort to bring about a closer relationship and a better understanding of industry and private enterprise among its people.

With this goal in mind the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, with the help of a local committee of business men, have taken the leadership in our community and have arranged a program allied with this common cause.

Phases of the preliminary arrangements completed are listed elsewhere in this message. Briefly they provide a schedule of Open House periods at various local industrial plants at which time the public is welcome to visit and inspect the plants; they provide speakers for public gatherings of all descriptions, provide for local radio programs with local speakers discussing the movement, plus various other state-wide projects which have a direct local interest.

Every sincere believer in the merits of private enterprise and personal liberty is encouraged to lend their support by actively subscribing through participation in the activities. Take advantage of the open house visits through our industrial plants—tune-in on the local broadcasts, hear the speakers on the movement at your own meetings and gatherings.

By doing these things you will be helping America to rededicate itself to its historic democratic ideals and thereby arm itself against the forces which seek to destroy the American way of life which is cherished by the majority of our people.

Beauty and You

By Patricia Lindsay

BOWLS REGULARLY.—A perfect hit—scored by Rita Hayworth in her two recent Columbia films "The Lady in Question" and "Before I Die," is followed up with a neat score in bowling, one of the games she plays regularly.

Now that summer is definitely over you are not planning to sit back and not exercise for the next eight months, are you? Your body needs contouring, relaxing and firming through exercise just as it does during the summer months. Good posture and poise too, depend upon an exercise routine which should be diligently followed.

The most pleasant way to exercise of course, is by playing a competitive game which not only keeps one fit but furnishes companionship as well. Authorities agree that one of the surest roads to health and beauty is through stretching and relaxing muscles rhythmically, so therefore you should select calisthenics to do at home which so stretch and relax the muscles, or you should choose a competitive game which does the same for you.

Bowling is an excellent indoor winter sport for women and it is estimated that over five million American women now bowl. Certainly every glamour girl in Hollywood spends several hours each week bowling for fun as well as beauty.

What Bowling Does

The careful timing and agile footwork required in skilled bowling encourages proper balancing of the one's weight which is essential to correct posture and good health. That is bowling's chief contribution to beauty but here are a few more:

Bulky, relaxed midriffs are firmed and slimmed into elastic muscles which give greater figure beauty.

New lightness and gracefulness in one's movements becomes apparent after a few months of regular bowling. A woman walks and dances more beautifully.

Neck and chest (so often too thin and sagging) are filled out into a firm round contour so desired by most women.

Slouching posture habits and rounded shoulders, which rob any girl or woman of figure and personality beauty, are corrected and poise is thereby gained.

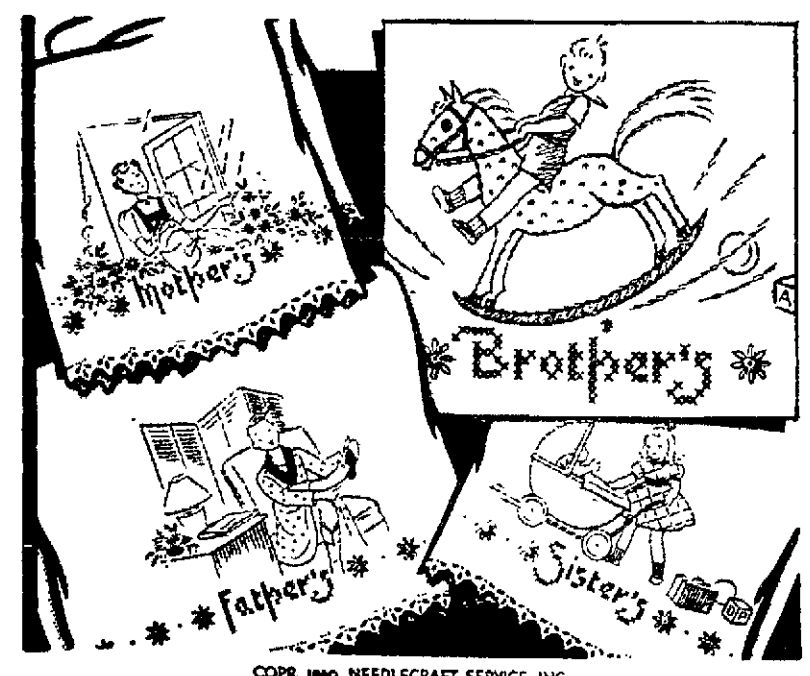

And not least of bowling's contributions is the fun it gives! Much more fun than a bridge club and much more beneficial.

Learn How to Bowl

Naturally if you decide to bowl correctly, you should learn how to bowl correctly. No sport or exercise is beneficial unless it is done in perfect timing and rhythm. I have a new leaflet which gives you simple directions of how to learn to bowl. You may carry it to an alley, follow the directions step by step and learn a correct bowling technique in the first hour.

So if you are a timid soul who shrinks from admitting you do not know how to do a thing, you should send for this bowling direction and teach yourself. Then interest a friend or two and make a social

Missed Cue In South's Jump Bid

BY ELY CULBERTSON

Last Tuesday's Questions

Question 2: Only North-South vulnerable. East deals and bids one spade. You are South and hold:

♠ 6542 ♥ 7 ♦ AK8653 ♣ 6

What call do you make?
Answer: You should pass. A vulnerable overall is entirely too dangerous with this hand, since even by optimistic figuring you can count no more than five winners. (If you overcalled with two diamonds take 25 points; otherwise, any other call, except a pass, is a point demerit.)

Question 3: Only East-West vulnerable. East deals and bids one heart. You are South and hold:

♠ AQ1086 ♥ 6542 ♦ Q105 ♣ 3

What call do you make?
Answer: One spade. Your non-vulnerability, and the fact that you can make this bid at the one level, dictate this call. It is far safer to overcall with one spade, not vulnerable, on this hand than with two diamonds, vulnerable, on the hand in question 2. (If you passed, take 10 points; otherwise, if you doubled for a take-out or made any other call, take 35 points demerit.)

Today's Question

Question 11: Neither side vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

West North East South

1 diamond 1 heart 2 clubs 2 hearts

Pass 3 no trump 4 diamonds ?

You are South, and hold:

The bidding:

South West North East

2 diamonds 4 hearts 3 diamonds Pass

4 hearts Pass 5 diamonds Pass

7 diamonds Pass Pass Pass

This was a tragic affair for North-South. West led the club queen, dummy played the king, East the ace, and South refused. After drawing trumps, declarer could get rid of one of dummy's spades on his own fifth trump, but this was worth exactly nothing. The spade finesse still had to be taken, and it lost.

North was to blame for the tremendous "swing" against his team. He failed to read the clear message in South's jump heart bid. After the two diamond opening and North's raise, South's second bid could not have been justified if his heart suit had been shorter than five cards. North should have figured that with diamonds as trump, South would be able to discard only one loser from North on the fifth heart, but that with hearts as trump, South's longer diamond suit longer, because it was lower ranking, yet had been bid first, would permit the discard of two black cards from the North hand.

Obviously, this logical thinking on North's part would have led to a far different result. North should have shown his liking for South's second suit and the grand slam then would have been bid in hearts. Two of North's spades would have found safe haven on South's long diamonds, and the spade queen then could have been safely ruffed.

This is the way to wash your upholstery: Dissolve one cup of shaved mild soap or some soap powder in four cups of boiling water, cool, then beat with an egg beater until fluffy. Dip a small clean brush into the suds and scrub a small area of the upholstery at a time. Wipe the suds off quickly with a clean cloth, then rinse thoroughly with another cloth frequently wrung out in clean water. (Change this water often.) Wipe dry as possible with soft cloth.

PRUNE DELICACIES

Prunes are good for you—and they're mighty good to eat. Recent increase in popularity of prunes with women who plan the meals of their families is due to two things. First chefs and smart hostesses have discovered new, delightful, easy-to-prepare ways of serving this fruit for breakfast, luncheon and dinner.

Miss Schneider

Second, scientists have found new important health values in prunes in addition to their well known natural regulative quality. Prunes are an exceptionally rich source of vitamin A and contains B and G and are a highly concentrated source of the minerals essential to good health. They contain an abundance of iron and of copper. They also contain calcium, phosphorus and other minerals in required amounts which are important in maintaining health.

Prune Rye Bread
2 cups sifted rye flour
2 cups sifted flour
6 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
2 cup sugar
1 egg, slightly beaten
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup chopped, cooked prunes
Mix and sift dry ingredients. Combine egg and milk, and add to flour mixture stirring only until well mixed, stir in prunes. Turn into greased loaf pans and bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. about 1 hour. Makes 2 loaves 6 by 3 inches or 1 sandwich loaf 11 by 3 by 3 inches.

Prune Souffle
1 pound prunes, stewed
1 cup sugar
4 egg whites
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup heavy cream, plain or whipped
Stone prunes and force pulp through coarse sieve. Add sugar and cook 2 minutes, or until sugar is dissolved. Beat egg whites until foamy, add salt and lemon juice, and beat until stiff, gently fold in prune mixture. Turn into baking dish set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven 350 degrees F. for 30 to 40 minutes or until firm. Serve at once with plain or whipped cream.

Molded Prune Fluff
2 1/2 cups cooked prunes
1 1/2 dozen marshmallows
1 1/2 cups liquid in which prunes were cooked
1 pkg. orange flavored gelatin
Put prunes. Form a circle in bottom of a 2 quart mold or pan by alternating prunes and marshmallows. Slice remaining prunes, and cut remaining marshmallows into small pieces. Heat prune liquid, pour over gelatin and stir to dissolve. Chill until thick but not firm, whip until light and fluffy. Fold in sliced prunes and cut marshmallows. Pour into prepared mold. Chill until firm. Unmold onto serving plate. Garnish with sweetened, cooked apricots and whole prunes. Serve with soft custard or whipped cream. Serves 8.

Don't be Hasty

Dear Miss Dix—My sister, who has been married for a number of years, has the misfortune of being unable to have children and is very unhappy about it. My husband and I have two children whom we love dearly.

Recently we had another little girl born to us, and we are considering very seriously giving the new child to my sister. We know it would make her happy and that she would be very good to the little one. Do you think this would be a good idea?

Answer: I think when the time came to part with your baby you could not bring yourself to give it away, even dug bulbs: are never dry and flabby; the outer scales are as filled with life as are the hearts. These fresh bulbs should be planted at once since every day they are out of the ground reduces the beauty of the resultant blooms.

Plant new bulbs or replant old ones in light porous soil containing an abundance of humus. Soil should be prepared well in advance of planting since lily bulbs resent fresh manure in their soil. They love and should always have a generous allotment of sharp sand in their soil mixture. This allows better drainage and guarantees feeder roots will find easy entrance into the surrounding soil. If the soil is heavy, and lightening it is too much of a task, the lilies will get along if surrounded with a generous handful of sand when the bulbs are set.

To keep sandwiches fresh for fancy serving, set them on a damp cloth and cover them with another damp cloth carefully adjusted so as not to damage the tops. Be sure the cloths cover the sides of the sandwiches, too.

In many localities it is possible to obtain freshly dug bulbs from nearby growers. This is the ideal way to start a planting. Freshly

PICTURE GALLERY

In eastern France, not far from the border of Italy, is one of the oldest picture galleries in the world. The pictures were made by Stone Age artists, and they decorate the walls of a cave.

The cave is known as Font-de-Gaume. It was formed by underground water, which carved it out of limestone rock.

We do not know just how long ago people began to live in the Font-de-Gaume, but it is believed that some of the pictures on the walls date back from 30,000 to 50,000 years.

Many of the pictures are simple outlines. Others are paintings in one or more colors.

There are engravings in fairly large number. These were made by artists who used sharp pieces of flint or other stone to cut into the cave walls. In some cases, the artist made engravings and then went over them with paint.

Entering the cave, we walk about 150 feet before passing a narrow place called "The Rubicon." Beyond that point, we find ourselves in a part known as "the Grand Gallery."

In the Grand Gallery, most of the paintings and other images are to be seen. For a distance of about 120 feet, the walls are decorated. The Grand Gallery is only about 10 feet wide on the average. Leading out from one side of it is a passage close to 150 feet long, and this passage also has pictures on its walls.

In the Grand Gallery, we may see 49 pictures of bison, four of reindeer and 15 of mammoths. For the most part, the animals are headed in the same direction, as if they were in parades. Here and there, however, two large animals are shown facing each other.

Time and again, we find that several pictures were made on the same section of the cave wall, one picture being made over another. There is reason to believe that the painting and engraving in this cave went on for hundreds of years, perhaps thousands. Later artists did not have enough space on which to work, so they drew or painted pictures over what had been done before.

Uncle Ray

What kind of paints did Stone Age artists use? How were the paints made? Those are among the questions which we shall take up in our story tomorrow.

Too Many Pheasants?

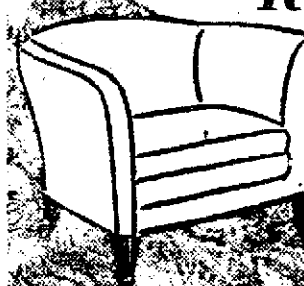

Pierre, S. D. —P—Lake Madison hunters will shoot pheasants instead of ducks this fall. When the lake dried, pheasants thrived in the dense undergrowth. The game and fish commission abandoned the refuge and invited "come and hunt."

V. F. W. HIGHWAY SAFETY SIGN—Shown above is the safety sign which Veterans of Foreign Wars posts in the state of Wisconsin will post on main highways outside cities. The Harvey Pierre post of Appleton will participate in the program.

V.F.W. Posts Will Sponsor Program of Highway Safety

The Harvey Pierre post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will participate in a safety program sponsored by the state department of the V. F. W., Armin B. Scheurle, department commander, announced today. Although the program will encompass all phases of highway safety, the two immediate objectives are the erection of safety signs and the painting of "utility poles" with red, white, and blue bands to denote school zones. Scheurle said.

Each of the 100 V. F. W. posts in the state will erect one safety sign at the city entrance on each principal highway. The highway safety sign is a replica of the V. F. W. Cross of Malta button which has been the official emblem of the organization since its founding in 1899.

The sign is 24 inches square and in five colors. In large letters at the top are "Drive Slowly" and at the bottom, "Protect Children." The state highway commission as well as county highway commissioners have approved the signs and promised to maintain them.

The V. F. W., in cooperation with other veteran organizations, plans to introduce into the next state legislature a bill making the painting of the red, white and blue poles at school zones mandatory by law.

was probably what made his smile seem so dazzling.

Golden Land

"You are lost, Senorita?" The magic of the Senorita completed Constance's capitulation. She was home. She was a Cabrillo one of the old Cabrillos who had ruled thousands of acres; thousands of cattle; and dozens of vaqueros like this one.

But would a Castilian Cabrillo have been as stirred by a cowboy as she was stirred? Could this exciting pulse-accelerating response be a strain of the shanty-irish copping out?

"Perhaps I am lost," she conceded. "I thought I was on El Camino Real."

"But no!" countered the man. "El Camino Real is many miles beyond this road. It would not be wise to try to find it. Fog is bad and fog and twilight is what we, in this country, call the Devil's brew."

"Then what shall I do?" begged Constance looking hopefully at the dim landscape.

"If you will follow this road a few miles you will come to a Cabrillo out-rider's post. Maria can put you up for the night, and tomorrow I will guide you to the home ranch."

After one backward glance Constance decided this was the only solution.

He said he would ride on ahead, and promised she would be out of the fog when she reached the summit. Then, with a quick movement, he had mounted and was away.

Constance smiled as she followed, smiled in spite of the motor which protested more audibly with each steep mile. The fog ahead was a curdled set of gray, and then it thinned to reveal a stand of redwood, next turned a dull orange, and as she reached the summit, disappeared to let her ride out into clear, yellow light.

On look ahead and Constance braked the car and turned off the motor. Before her lay half of the remaining Cabrillo acres, mellowed in the last rays of the sun. There were the hills of tan velvet rolling away to plum-colored mountains standing in a serrated line against the blue-gray sky.

Sell this? Never!

Yet no wonder Taylor wanted it for his own. And no wonder the vaquero looked as though he had sprung from such a golden land.

He was riding down the sharp drop to where a wide adobe house squatted in the lee of the hill, dwarfed by the giant Eucalyptus trees which towered above it.

He stopped his horse before the adobe, and a woman, built like the house, squeezed through the door.

Constance laughed as she watched the pantomime.

The woman waved a red apron excitedly. She threw it up over her head and back down. Then she raised her voice and the words came to Constance through the thin air.

"Josefa ... Jo see fa! Marietta! Juan! Carlos! Muy pronto!"

Children came scrambling muy pronto from every direction, and Maria, after a hurried consultation, waved them on with her apron. One to the woodpile, one to the chicken yard, one to the little garden beyond the grove, and the girl into the house.

"Maria," murmured Constance, "is preparing for a guest. What will she think when she learns that her guest is a Cabrillo?"

Miss Michael

Suddenly Michael Mahoney's great-granddaughter sat erect, her eyes narrowed. The vaquero had wheeled away from the house to the stables where two riders had just come in from the hills.

Tonight, after the evening meal, these men would sit around and talk. If they didn't know her as a Cabrillo, she could ask leading questions and learn all she needed to know about the ranch before Taylor knew that she was within a thousand miles of the place.

"What name shall I use?" she wondered, then nodded. They had called her a throwback. Very well, she would take her great-grandfather's first name. She would be Miss Michael for one night.

A swift shadow fell over the hills, and Constance shivered in the chill November evening air. She started her engine, to make a slow descent, brakes, gears and her own young muscles straining to hold the car back from its impetuous dash to the valley.

As she pulled up before the adobe Maria appeared, now clothed in black, hair pulled into a neat bun, round face shining with recent soaping and broad welcome, a white apron replacing the red one.

She burst into a flow of Spanish which left the descendant of the Dons frowning in a concentrated effort to follow her words.

"Welcome," concluded Maria, and Constance relaxed. Maria it appeared, could speak English after a fashion, and also, after a fashion, could understand it.

"Si," she had one extra room, but not for money, for a guest.

And "Si," she could arrange such humble food as would pacify the hunger of the Senorita.

Constance followed as she backed into the long main room of the house, a room which might have looked barren with its white-washed walls, hand-hewn furniture and rock fireplace, had not the rafters and windows been festooned with rows of green and scarlet peppers, yellow gourds and strings of pearly white garlic.

And for the little Shrine set in an alcove off the inner door, a small taper glowing before it.

Maria backed towards the Shrine, then respectfully stood aside, waiting, and Constance, reaching back in her memory, remembered a tradition of the Cabrillos.

She had completed a hazardous journey. She must give thanks for its safe termination; for the welcome of friends and for food and shelter.

Obediently she knelt and when she arose found Maria, a fatuous smile on her face, nodding to someone across the room.

Constance turned and her heart tightened, then quickened its beat. The vaquero had come in. Did she imagine disappointment and vague pain in the expression in his eyes, or was it the shadow of the fast falling twilight?

Confusedly Maria introduced him—"Senorita Michael, this is Pedro," she offered, then raised her voice, "Marietta!"

Marietta, a pocket edition of her mother, came scurrying in, and Constance aware only of the slight bow the vaquero had given at the introduction, followed the child out of the room and down a tiny hall to the room she would occupy.

"Is Pedro your uncle?" she asked of Marietta.

Marietta gave her a startled glance, then hid her face in shocked denial.
